Saragat praises Marshall plan.

Longo lashes out against American government.

ITALIANS HEAR PRO AND ANTI-RED VIEWS ON ELECTION. With the important April 18 elections drawing closer, the Italian people are bombarded with information by both pro and anti-Communist factions. While Giuseppe Saragat, moderate Socialist and vice premier, praises the Marshall plan and denounces Red tactics before crowd on Rome's Piazza della Pilotta, Italy's No. 2 Communist, Luigi Longo, addresses nearby crowd of 5,000, describing U. S. government as "war mongering," and hailing the Red coup in Czechoslovakia as "victory of the people and defeat of imperialism." (International Soundphotos)

TO START ON ATOMIC PLANT

First Steps Scheduled To Be Taken at Marion Site Next Week.

Temporary headquarters will be set up here next week for the Atomic Energy Commission's research laboratory to be operated by the Monsanto Chemical Co.

Kenneth A. Dunbar Dayton area manager for the AEC, said today in a telephone conversation with a Star reporter from his Dayton office that a project staff member would be in Marion Tuesday to set up a local operating office at the Scioto Ordnance Plant grounds.

He indicated that plans for preliminary work at the Scioto Ordnance site were being rapidly whipped into shape. Construction work will be handled by the Maxon Construction Co. of Dayton.

First construction will get under way probably within two weeks, Mr. Dunbar reported, with ground to be broken about May 1 for the central building.

Schedule for Contracts

First contracts to be let are expected to be for test borings on the new buildings, and for construction of a fence around the immediate area, which includes the main group of present buildings and not the entire 1,200 acres secured by the AEC, he explained.

Also to be included in the first work in the area is the repair of the railroad spur off the Pennsylvania railroad serving the plant grounds.

"The first two weeks in May should see work well under way on the main building," Dunbar said.

The new building is to be built of reinforced concrete and will be a one-story structure 300 by 400 feet in dimensions. A raised roof will provide for installation of ventilators and blowers.

Present Buildings Included

Existing facilities to be utilized in addition to the new building include a power plant, sewage and water systems, shops, warehouses and a garage. These facilities are located north of the Likens road with the power plant, shops and garage grouped closely together. The warehouses extend east along Likens road. The new building will be located in the area between the two groups of present buildings.

Maxon Construction company representatives have been in Marion recently checking on the labor market and on availability of construction materials. Up to 1,000 workers were indicated by Monsanto Co. as needed for construction purposes. Maxon Co. representative, J. V. Bean, visited both the Chamber of Commerce and OSES offices here.

Mr. Dunbar indicated the installation manager here would be C. A. Budnik, now located at the AEC installation at Miamisburg, O. Both the Marion and Miamisburg installations will be administered by Dr. Carroll A. Hochwalt, Monsanto vice president and director of research at the company central laboratory at Dayton.

Pleasant Township Over Top in Red Cross Drive

To Pleasant township goes the honor of being the first group in the county to report its quota in the annual Red Cross Fund Campaign it was announced today by John W. Watters, campaign chairman.

Headed by Mrs. Gail Smith as chairman, the workers topped their quota of $484 when they returned subscriptions in the amount of $504.98, today.

A report meeting will be held tonight and it is the hope of Chairman Watters and the workers that the Marion county goal $25,985 will be reached.

The meeting will be held in the chamber office at 7 o'clock this afternoon.

Smith Urges No Gold Buying from Russia

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—Rep. Frederick C. Smith, (R) of Ohio, today urged congress to forbid the treasury to buy Russian gold.

Rep. Smith told the house the gold purchases add to inflationary pressures. He said Russia is using gold in a calculated scheme to upset economies of other countries.

STATE GETS SET TO SPEED BONUS CHECKS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 24—Ohio bonus administrators are only one step away from sending "several thousand" applications to the check-writing department. It'll be some time before they take that step, however.

Bonus director Chester W. Goble revealed last night "several thousand" applications have cleared the "examining stage," which includes a computation of the bonus due after a check of the answers with the veteran's discharge papers.

After the applications are audited, the next step, they go to the check-writing department.

However, Goble said, his department is going to build a "backlog" of applications-to-be-audited so there will be no stoppage of check-writing once it starts.

"It's still too early to predict when the first bonus check will be issued," Goble added.

The bonus administrator said thousands of original discharge papers, furnished by the veterans with their applications, have been mailed back. These papers are photocopied and filed with the application.

"The emphasis now is on the return of original discharge papers," Goble said, "because some veterans need them for other purposes."

He estimated more than 460,000 applications — over half of those expected — were sent in since forms first were distributed March 1.

OFFER DROPPED BY YUGOSLAVIA

Says Had No Intention of Insisting on Trieste-Gorizia Trade.

By The Associated Press

ROME, March 24—Yugoslavia backed out today from an offer to trade Trieste for the Italian city of Gorizia.

The Yugoslav foreign ministry voiced regret over the "apparent assumption abroad" that Yugoslavia would insist on obtaining Garizia in exchange for Trieste.

At the same time, a ministry spokesman hinted Yugoslavia might consider some other swap for the great Adriatic port now in free territory partially occupied by Yugoslavia.

An Italian spokesman said yesterday Italy would reject any Yugoslav renewal of her offer to barter her claims to Trieste for Gorizia. Yugoslavia first suggested tha swap in November, 1946.

The Yugoslav spokesman said last night Foreign Minister Stanoje Simic did not intend to advance any specific proposal when he told newsmen Monday that Yugoslavia is ready to seek a compromise on Trieste through mutual efforts.

Milan and Trieste Called Crisis Centers

By The United Press

Milan and Trieste emerged today as twin crisis points of the boiling Italian political struggle.

Allied troops were alerted in Trieste against possible Yugoslav moves across the Trieste frontier and 7,000 civil police were ordered to action stations to avert possible violence by Communists within the city.

The northern industrial center of Milan, a Communist stronghold, was torn by violence and disorder for the fourth successive day. Striking leftist printers seized and burned foreign newspapers after a night in which Americans in the city were threatened by mobs.

With the spotlight still strongly focused on Italy new moves in the East-West war of nerves were in the making at both Washington and Moscow.

Two Railroads Outline Plans For Grade Crossing Elimination

A joint proposal of the Chesapeake and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads to raise their tracks through Marion as part of a proposed citywide grade crossing elimination program was presented for consideration here yesterday.

Representatives of the two railroads met with city officials and members of the Chamber of Commerce grade crossing elimination committee at the Chamber office. Blueprints of the huge project completed by the railroads' engineering staffs were presented here for the first time.

Representing the Pennsylvania railroad were J. D. Moffatt of Chicago, chief engineer, and G. W. Patterson, also of Chicago, assistant to Mr. Moffatt.

Chesapeake and Ohio representatives included Chief Engineer L. T. Nuckols, assistants, W. R. Talbott and C. B. Porter, all of Richmond, Va., District Engineer C. A. Whipple and Superintendent B. R. Gould, both of Columbus, R. C. Watkins, division engineer, and H. H. Stouffer, assistant trainmaster, at Marion.

Marion Representatives

Mayor Harry L. Dowler and City Engineer Tom S. Cathers represented the city. The Chamber grade crossing committee members present included chairman Floyd G. Browne and Walter D. Moore, O. C. Schlientz, W. S. Symes, S. W. Kuhner and Ralph Q. White. Also present were Robert T. Mason, Chamber president, and Hugh Webster, Chamber secretary, who set up the meeting.

The huge project was estimated by Chief Engineer Moffatt to cost $12,000,000 based on present day costs. That figure, he said would include the whole project covering purchase of additional right of way, construction costs and damage to property involved.

The project cost would be borne by the two railroads, the city and the state if plans for the undertaking are adopted.

Blueprints presented for consideration provide a joint four-track road bed on a raised grade beginning at a point near Buckeye street north of Bellefontaine avenue. The combined roadbed would continue north to a point just south of the West Center street crossing.

Tracks Separate

Here the joint right of way would separate, the railroads each following their present 2-track right of way. From the point of separation just South of West Center street the tracks would be supported by trestle work extending north to a point just north of the junction with the Erie and New York Central, passing over the tracks of both east and west railroads. The remainder of the raised grade extending north out to and beyond the city limits would be maintained by fill, as would the grade from the south into the city and up north as far as near Center street.

Grade crossings at Bellefontaine avenue, Columbia street, Center street, Silver street and Fairground street would be eliminated.

Of more consequence to the railroads, the crossover of Erie and New York Central tracks would be done away with to the benefit of all four railroads and the city as well. At present the Oak street, North Prospect street, North Main street, North State street and North Greenwood street crossings are often all blocked while westbound trains wait clearance through Marion.

The elimination project if completed would not only free motor traffic on the main streets running east and west but would reduce present delays at grade crossings on the main streets north and south, it was pointed out.

City engineer Tom S. Cathers after scanning the blueprints, was of the opinion that the proposal is practical and workable.

"Of course, a lot of details will have to be worked out if the plan goes through," he said. He indicated that the city sewer system would not be affected in making the necessary reduction in street levels for underpasses.

MATINEE CLUB TO RUN RACES

Marion Trotting Ass'n. Gives Up Control of Summer Harness Session.

The Marion Matinee club, headed by Dr. J. G. McNamara, will take over the harness racing at the Marion track this summer, Frank Foster, head of the Marion Trotting association announced today.

Mr. Foster said he was relinquishing control of the annual racing session because of the pressure of business as head of the Houghton Sulky Co.

Races Same Dates

Dr. McNamara, who left for California Sunday, couldn't be reached for comment, but Mr. Foster, who is also vice president of the Marion Matinee club, said the races would be held on the same dates, July 3 to 24, and in the same manner as usual.

He said that he had considered giving up the operation of the summer session before he left for Florida more than a month ago and that the Matinee club had applied to the State Racing commission for the dates if the Marion Trotting association should decide to bow out.

Calls Meetings

Upon his return to Marion last week, he called several meetings of the local association, and it was finally decided to turn over the races to the auspices of the Matinee club.

Inasmuch as the state commission is already on record as saying they would award the dates to the Matinee club if the Trotting association gave them up, an announcement from the state body approving the change is expected.

Other officers of the Matinee club are George Alber, secretary, and Henry Kraner, treasurer.

TAFT ENDORSED

Truman Takes Action To Halt Coal Strike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—President Truman moved in on the coal strike today and operators called for a speed-up in the drive to get a court ban against the walkout.

They said the board of inquiry set up by Mr. Truman under the Taft-Hartley law "should require only a matter of hours" to report.

That report, a bare statement of facts on the 10-day soft coal shutddwn, is needed before the government can ask for a federal court injunction.

Under such an order the court could levy heavy fines or even jail terms against John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers if they failed to obey.

The President issued an order late yesterday creating the inquiry board and directing it to report by April 5, or sooner if it can. The members were expected to be announced by the White House today.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS STILL IMPROVING

Rites for Two Arranged Today and Tomorrow.

The conditions of the four Marion boys who were injured in an automobile accident Sunday near Kenton in which two other Marion boys were killed were reported again today to be "slightly improved," according to officials of San Antonio hospital in Kenton and City hospital here where they are recovering.

Jack Rubins, who is in the Kenton hospital, although not out of danger, continues to show improvement and is conscious at intervals, the hospital reported. The other three, Charles F. Ulrich, Forrest Glen Mannis and Warren Jay Meister, in City hospital were reported to have had "a good night," and are fairly good today.

The two who lost their lives in the accident were Richard A. Eckart of 682 Windsor street and Charles Willis Pace of 716 South Prospect street. Funeral services for Eckart were to be conducted this afternoon in the Schaffner-Danner funeral home on East Center street by Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church. Burial was in Marion cemetery. The Pace services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in Epworth church with Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, officiating. Burial will be at Caledonia.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon when the car in which the six boys were riding struck a concrete bridge six miles east of Kenton on route 30-S.

QUESTION NOW IS—CAN THEY OVERRIDE VETO

GOP Leaders All Answer Yes; Early Decision Is Expected.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, March 24— The house passed today the $4,800,000,000 tax-slashing bill, sending it to President Truman.

The measure cuts taxes for all the 52,000,000 income taxpayers and drops 7,400,000 low income persons from the tax rolls.

Mr. Truman is expected to veto the bill quickly, perhaps with a message citing needs for more billions for military preparedness in the drive to stop Communism.

The vote was 289 to 66. This is 52 votes more than the two-thirds which would be needed to override a veto.

In the voting, 64 Democrats joined 225 Republicans in support of the measure. Opposing were 64 Democrats and the two American-Labor party members, Marcantonio and Isacon.

• • •

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24— Democrats cited prospective new billions of spending for military preparedness today as an argument against house passage of the $4,800,000,000 tax slashing bill.

But even as they argued, they conceded privately they had no chance to beat the senate-approved measure; that the house is going to pass it by a large margin.

The big test will come later. That will be on whether congress will pass the bill over an expected presidential veto.

Republican leaders called the house into session an hour earlier than usual to speed the bill along to the White House.

The debate already was raging. Before the gavel fell to open the session, Rep. Gore (D-Tenn) issued a statement saying President Truman will soon ask $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 for military purposes, including building a huge air force.

If this is voted, together with a tax cut, the result will be to "sink us deeper into debt," he said.

Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill) fired back with another statement. He said congress can cut taxes and vote money for defense both if it "does not succumb to all the squandering whims of the New Deal bureaucracy supported by the greatest propaganda in the history of the world."

One administration lieutenant on Capitol Hill said the President will not take advantage of the full 10 days to draft his veto. This official said the White House will be heard from by Monday, or Tuesday at the latest.

Conference Held

In this connection, Mr. Truman went over the government spending picture yesterday with his military chiefs and Budget Director James E. Webb.

There was no official announcement after the meeting, but officials let it be known that the $39,700,000,000 budget which the President sent to congress in January may be hiked by three or even five billion dollars.

Republican leaders nevertheless were unanimous in predicting that both houses will vote to override.

"The tax cut is certain," Speaker Martin (Mass) reiterated to reporters. Rep. Knutson (Minn), author of the original reduction bill, and Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman of the senate's GOP policy committee, agreed.

Democratic opponents gloomily conceded in private that they have no hopes of blocking the tax cut measure.

Retroactive To Jan. 1

Effective May 1, all tax withholdings from pay envelopes and salary checks would be reduced to conform with the lower taxes. Next year the taxpayers would get refunds on overpayments from January 1 to May 1, because of the retroactive feature of the bill.

Here is how the reductions work:

▶ Personal exemptions are increased by $100—from $500 to $600.

▶ The "community property" principle would be applied to all states, permitting husbands and wives to divide the family income equally for tax reporting pur-

Survey of Marion Stores Shows Accent Will Be On Color When Easter Paraders Display Their New Spring Outfits

By EDNA S. DUTTON

When Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Public and the little Publics step out in the Easter parade next Sunday, accent will be on color, the new look will predominate and gaiety will be the keynote of their ensembles, the wares to be found in Marion stores prophesy. They're different, they're lovely and they're wearable from top to toe.

"Be Lovely to Look At" seems to be the theme song of manufacturers of milady's wardrobe and there isn't a discord to be found.

For the first time since the early 40's men are coming in for a new style trend and they are finding it a welcome change. Far from being overlooked are the teenagers and teenie-weenies—costumes in these brackets are something to see.

Hats have the call this season after seens of milady pinning flowers and feathers in her hair, and a look through the shops gives the answer. There are bonnets and sailors, flower-trimmed and beribboned in the most unusual styles and off-the-face to show milady's pretty eyes and makeup. And a wide variety there is to choose from—navy, pink, gray, beige, brown is good and there are always smart styles in black. For trim there are to be found roses, large and small violets, white lilacs and poppies if you please, ribbons in plain and plaids. Fashioned into sash ties, bridging bows. And not to be overlooked are the veils in very fine mesh and for the more tailored look the heavy mesh.

Suits, coats and dresses are decidedly feminine—gone are the heavily padded shoulders (they're still padded but scarcely noticeable). Last year stylists were more or less experimenting with the new look, but this year it's decidedly "in," so fashion says.

Unusual Necklines

Dresses look to unusual necklines and button trim for that different look, and there is a return to laces for that decidedly feminine appeal. The narrower skirts are draped and for those who favor the ballerina skirt there are blouses and sleeves to be worn at the waistline [illegible] to the delicate this world." Cl[illegible] ...ensemble [illegible]

plaids. The new length is finding favor, sheer crepes are back and there are lovely flower prints to be had.

In suits the jackets are short, medium and long but stylists have given them a touch that makes them more graceful and flattering than those of yesteryear. Materials are novelty rayons, crepes and gabardines. In lighter colors are found mauve (lavender pink), navy, blues and aqua.

"Feminine and frilly" are the words for the blouses to be worn with suits. The Gibson Girl blouse continues to grow in popularity and the dressy blouses to be worn with the ballerina skirt have turned back the pages of time to days of laces and [illegible] the intriguing collars that are the call [illegible] pointed collars are [illegible] shawls and [illegible] turtle [illegible] dies, [illegible] ...ensembles [illegible]

As for footwear—well, happy days are here again when it comes to the shoe chest. The Mrs. may choose from blues, reds, greens and combinations of colors, toeless and with toes, wedgies, sandals, baby doll, platform soles, cuban heels or reckless Ballerina flats. In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

A NEW weapon to stop big strikes at least 80 days is being used now by the government.

It's part of the Taft-Hartley labor act passed nine months ago. But meatpackers and the atomic workers who threatened a strike at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The three cases will be news for some time. This explains what the government has done, can do, and why.

James Marlow

If the President thinks the national health or safety is endangered by a strike or lockout—going on or threatened—then:

He can set up a fact - finding board to look into the dispute. Within a time set by him, the board reports back to him.

It recommends nothing. It just says what both sides want. The President makes the report public.

By that time—if the strike or lockout is till threatened or is not over—then:

He can tell the attorney general to ask a federal judge for an order stopping or forbidding a strike or lockout for 80 days.

If the workers or boss refuse to obey him, the judge can fine or jail them. They must continue working for at least 80 days.

(If either side thinks the order unfair, it can appeal to the higher courts but meanwhile must continue work.)

Men from the U. S. mediation service jump into the dispute—while work is going on—and try to get both sides to reach a settlement.

This takes place during the first 60 of the 80 days. In the meantime the President calls back his fact-finding board.

AT THE END OF THOSE 60 days, if there's still no settlement, the board reports on the situation to the President. He makes the report public.

Then, within the next 15 days, the national labor relations board (NLRB) steps in.

The NLRB takes a secret vote among the workers to see if they're willing to accept the employer's last offer.

(This vote should show whether union leaders are blocking a settlement in spite of the wishes of the union members.)

Within five days after those 15 days are up the NLRB must tell the attorney general the result of the secret vote.

(The 80 days in which a strike or lockout has been forbidden by the court are now used up.)

WHETHER THE WORKERS' secret vote is "no" to the employer's last offer—or whether the dispute is now settled— the attorney general must go back to court.

This time he asks the judge to wipe out the no-strike order he issued 80 days before. The judge has to do this.

Then the strike or lockout is free to go on, if it has not been settled. But there's one more move, even though the strike or lockout is now taking place:

The President makes a full report to congress. It's now up to congress to stop the strike, if it will, by passing a special act.

Until this month none of this long machinery had been used. There had been no strike or threatened strike big enough to call for it.

NOW THREE TIMES this month the government has put the machinery into motion. This is how:

1. At Oak Ridge 900 AFL workers threatened a strike in a wage dispute. President Truman set up fact-finders March 5. They reported back March 16. The strike still threatened.

On March 19 the attorney general got a court order forbidding the strike. That stopped a strike. The machinery now is operating.

2. Meatpackers, asking higher pay, struck March 16. The same day Mr. Truman set up fact-finders. They're still fact-finding. The packers still are striking.

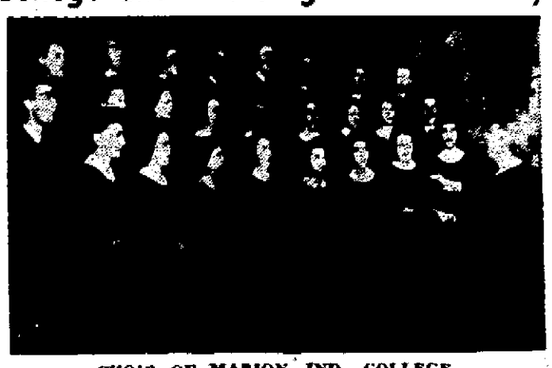
Because the fact-finders haven't reported back to the President, the attorney general can't get a court order to stop the strike.

3. John L. Lewis' coal miners started striking March 15 to make the mine owners accept his ideas for a pension system. Yesterday Mr. Truman set up fact-finders in this case. The miners still are on strike.

In each of the three cases the President had to decide the national health or safety was in danger.

Hal Boyle is on vacation for a week. His column will be resumed when he returns.

College Choir To Sing Here Thursday



CHOIR OF MARION, IND., COLLEGE

The choir of Marion college, Marion, Ind., will be here Thursday night to present a program of sacred music at Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church, Rev. R. L. Sutherland, pastor, announced. Composed of 25 singers, the choir was founded and is directed by Prof. Herman Baker, director of the college's school of music. The concert will be at 8 o'clock at the church which is located at North Greenwood and East Mark streets. This group of singers has been described as having received recognition as "one of the outstanding college musical organizations specializing in sacred song."

Prof. Baker earned his master of music degree at Northwestern university, and is a former member of the Northwestern a cappella choir. The program here will include a variety of selections, gospel hymns, Negro spirituals, and anthems. Members of the choir are students selected from every department of the college. This service will be open to the public, and an offering will be received for expenses of the choir, it was stated.

Marion Insurance Men Will Attend Meeting

Several county residents, including W. B. Kelly, R. E. Hinsman and R. M. McAllister, county Farm Bureau insurance representatives, will attend the twenty-second annual meeting of the three Farm Bureau insurance companies to be held March 31 and April 1 in Columbus.

Leland Stowe, authority on world affairs, and Dr. Dwayne Orton, educational director of the International Business Machines Corp., will be the principal speakers on the first day. More than 1,500 representatives and agents of the companies will attend.

TO SEND GIFT TO HOME

Plans were made to send Easter gifts to the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Xenia, O., at a meeting of the auxiliary to Porter-Snyder Post No. 605, American Legion, of Waldo Thursday night in the Legion hall. Reports of various committees were given and a bake sale was planned to be held Saturday, March 27, in Waldo. An announcement was made that the next meeting has been changed due to Legion activities and will be held March 30 in the Legion hall.

Monsanto To Sponsor Atomic Show May 1

The Monsanto Chemical company, which announced plans recently to locate a $5,000,000 atomic research plant near here, the Scioto plant site, is co-sponsoring an atomic program April 29, 30 and May 1 at Miamisburg. The general subject will be "Living With Atomic Energy."

The three-day program will consist of two phases. One phase will involve dynamic or "live" exhibits. These exhibits are being specially built by Monsanto scientists at the company's laboratories in Dayton. They will be handled by a lecturer-demonstrator team operating from the stage of the Miamisburg grade school auditorium.

The second phase of the program, built around static or fixed exhibits attended by demonstrators, will be located in the high school gymnasium. The gym will be virtually converted into a "museum" for the occasion.

One of the most elaborate atomic energy exhibits available—that of the American Chemical society is being imported. The A.C.S. exhibit in the gymnasium will be supplemented both by Monsanto-built exhibits and by others otained from outside sources.

MAGNETIC SPRINGS REVIEW

A Maundy Thursday night communion service for the Magnetic Springs and Pharisburg Methodist churches will be held in the Magnetic Springs church in commemoration of the Lord's last supper the day before his crucifixion. The service will be at 8, Rev. Hiram Holdridge, pastor, announced. On Good Friday night, a service of meditation for the two congregations will be held at the Pharisburg church at 8. Easter morning a sunrise service will be held at Pharisburg at 6 o'clock under direction of the Youth Fellowship, and breakfast will follow at 7 in the church basement. At morning worship in the two churches, Magnetic Springs at 10 and Pharisburg at 11, Rev. Holdridge will preach on "Christ Arose! Are You Sure?" New members will be received into both churches at these services.

...linic Named for Son of Screen Star Has Helped Hundreds of Deaf Children

By HOWARD C. HEYN
Associated Press Writer

...ELES, March 24—The ...le-year-old Malinda ... the day she rushed ... her fist extended, her ... with excitement ... Malinda, "Thumb, ... again and again, to ... of the family, all ... every passerby, ..." all day long. ...obably the most im... Malinda's life. One ...suddenly took on a ...significance. ...s been deaf since birth. Because she couldn't hear, she couldn't talk. She wasn't mentally backward. She merely had no language, no words for the things she saw. She had no means of acquiring these words in the natural way other children do. It took her months to learn to say "thumb."

Hundreds of children are born as Malinda was. Without expert guidance they represent untold hours of heartache for well-meaning but fumbling parents who strive desperately, and futilely, to help them.

Tracy Clinic Great Help

Malinda got the special assistance she needed from the John Tracy clinic, and by way of her own parents.

Mrs. Louise Tracy, wife of movie star Spencer Tracy, established the clinic five years ago, with the aid of a dozen other parents. Already it has handled some 2,000 cases, by direct and indirect methods. The clinic is named for the Tracy's son, also born deaf. He's 23 now, and he talks.

Mrs. Tracy is blonde, comely, intensely eager, and endlessly patient. When she speaks her gaze never wavers from her listener's face. Her head never moves from side to side, because she never talks in an offhand manner. Such movements confuse deaf children.

She knows all about the heartaches of fumbling parents, for she was one. But she didn't stay one. Her clinic, supported by public subscription is staffed by accredited teachers of the deaf, speech instructors, psychologists, medical consultants, a clerical force to handle voluminous correspondence. Parents pay what they can afford. The clinic estimates its costs at $850 a year per child, and recommends three years of specialized attention.

Only One of Its Kind

In method, the Tracy clinic is the only organization of its kind. The children with whom it is concerned are all between the ages of three and six. But, most important, its efforts are concentrated upon their parents.

There is a nursery school, but this is primarily a phase of parent education. Mothers and fathers observe its activities, and receive special instruction in regular classes. A psychologist from the university of Southern California lectures to them each week on general child development.

Techniques, extending far beyond ordinary imitative methods, seek to instill in deaf children a true understanding of language, rather than to create merely a mechanical system of identification by words or signs, said Mrs. Tracy.

"We adopted the parental approach because children of that age are almost constantly in the presence of mothers or fathers. These are the persons who care for them, around whom their lives revolve. Ability, understanding, love, the awareness of things stem from the home. We teach the parent to teach the child."

In the nursery school, one parent or another is always in attendance with the child and the instructor. Other parents may watch from another room, through a transparent mirror. From time to time a parent will take over, holding up the colored cards, a ball, shoe; learning how to talk to the child, how to hold his attention.

Feel Music Vibration

Music is extensively employed. Although the child may not hear the melody, he feels, through earphones, vibrations and rhythm. He may even actually hear the music at times, since some deaf children have tiny "islands" of hearing. All of this, the clinic holds, will contribute to his ultimate ability to speak.

In the early stages of lip reading the child places his fingers against the face of a mother or an instructor to feel the vibrations and rhythm of speech as various objects are identified. When the child can read lips a means of one-way communication, at least, has been set up.

"We don't try to teach them to talk immediately," Mrs. Tracy explained. "Understanding must come first. The first word may come only after many months of work. But it will always come.

"Even after a child begins to talk we proceed slowly," said Mrs. Tracy. "They may not pronounce them well, since they cannot compare sounds. Practice and time mean everything."

Couple To Mark Golden Wedding Sunday

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM IKENSAA

Mr. and Mrs. William Ikensaa of the Rayl-Uncapher pike, married 50 years ago next Tuesday, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner and open house in the afternoon and evening. The marriage ceremony for the bride and bridegroom March 30, 1898, was performed by Rev. J. A. Sutton, pastor of the Free Baptist church, in his home in La-Rue. The bride was a daughter of Lafayette and Martha Harraman of Marion county, near Essex.

She had celebrated her twenty-fifth birthday anniversary the September before. Her birthday was Sept. 23, 1872. Her husband, a son of Christopher and Margaret Ikensaa of Franklin county, had come from there to Union county to live, also near Essex. He had celebrated his twenty-eighth birthday anniversary Dec. 16, preceding his marriage. His birth year was 1869. Their family dinner Sunday will include two children, H. H. Ikensaa of near New Bloomington, and Mrs. Mildred Ruth, at home, two grandchildren, William Ikensaa and James Ruth, and a niece, Mrs. Prudence Sifritt of 125 Superior street, Marion, for whom they provided a home for some time. Friends will be welcomed from 2 p. m. until 5 and 7 until 9.

Young People of Two Churches in Cantata

Young people's groups of two Pilgrim Holiness churches here will present an Easter cantata, "The Third Day," by Marion Wakeman and Ruth Dale, tonight and Thursday nights. The first presentation will be in First Pilgrim church at Bennett and Waterloo streets, and on the second night, at Second Pilgrim church at Ballentine avenue and Mark street. Miss Eleanor Jett and Ronald Osborne are directors and Mrs. Fred Osborne is accompanist.

Members of the cast of the production, set in Bible times, are William Osborne, Miss Sally Anderson, Warren Osborne, Bobby Everly, Miss Grace Gusthurst, Miss Elva Martin, Robert Osborne, Roy Pletcher, Miss Ruth Emerson, Mrs. Gladys Everly, Miss Catherine Osborne, Miss Anne Martin, James Martin and Frank Gusthurst.

Mrs. Twila Munn will sing a solo and choir members are Miss Bonita Osborne, Mrs. Shirley Maag, Mrs. Florence Brandum, Misses Barbara and Dorothy Jaegers and Geraldine and Elaine Browning, and Mrs. Belva Holloway. At the beginning of the service an orchestra will play. Time of the service will be 7:45 each night.

SCHOOL IN UNION CO. ABSORBED BY ANOTHER

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 24 — Union county had one high school fewer in its county system with the announcement by the board of education at Allen local school that its high school pupils will be sent to nearby Liberty local high school at Raymond next school term. The board had earlier voted to discontinue the Allen high school after receiving notice that the state department of education would no longer grant the school a first grade charter. The first eight grades will continue to be operated at Allen.

Glen Cline, clerk of the Allen school board, said that about 28 pupils will be involved in the transfer. He stated that it is possible that not all of the high schoolers will go to Raymond, but some may enroll in schools nearer their homes. The vote to send the pupils either to Raymond or Marysville was split three to two with the majority favoring the Raymond school.

There are now 10 county high schools in the Union county. Dover local's school board voted sometime ago to send its pupils to Marysville high school next school term, when it was also informed that a first grade charter would not be granted the school next year.

COLUMBUS JUDGE HEARD BY ROTARY

Tells of Legal Rules Violated in Trial of Christ.

An account of the trial of Jesus Christ, showing how virtually all the important basic legal provisions were violated in the proceedings, was given in the weekly meeting of the Marion Rotary club at Hotel Harding Tuesday by John R. King of Columbus, judge of the Franklin county court of common pleas. He took as his subject, "The Trial of Jesus Christ from a Lawyer's Point of View."

Although one of the fundamental rules was that no sessions of the Sanhedrin, the tribunal before which Christ was arraigned, should be held at night in cases involving charges of capital offenses, this most important trial in the world's history took place in the night hours, Judge King said.

Rules also stipulated that persons accused should be protected from abuse and violence and otherwise given kind treatment. The record shows these provisions were grossly violated, the Columbus jurist said, and he also pointed out that no formal accusation was made as provided by the law then in effect.

Judge King said that the conviction was based upon false testimony and it was clearly shown that the entire proceeding was the outcome of a conspiracy. It was a conspiracy, he told his audience, hatched up by the ruling authorities who saw in Christ a threat to their corrupt rule. Their dishonesty and exploitation of the people through burdensome taxes and other injustices had been repeatedly exposed and attacked by Christ and so those in power decided his removal was necessary.

Judge King was introduced to his audience by Harold W. Hall, Rotary club program chairman.

Guests of the club in addition to the speaker were N. J. White, Columbus attorney, Dale Grunder, a Rotarian from Medina, F. H. LeMasters of Marion, and Dr. Hazen C. Werner of Madison, N. J., who is preaching here this week in special services at Epworth Methodist church.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, THE HOPE of Glory

THE PLOTTERS BAFFLED

Matthew 22:17. "Tell us therefore, what thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar or not?"

JESUS traveled a hard road during Passion Week. At every turn the enemy, subtle and cunning, worked overtime to trap Him or disclose a fallacy in His teachings. The questions the opposition put to Jesus were innocent enough, but beneath them lurked an evil spirit.

"Is it right to give tribute to Caesar or not?" A clever trick. If He answered yes, He would have discredited His Messiahship. Should He answer in the negative He would be accused of sedition against Rome. Jesus demanded a coin and said, "Whose image and superscription is on it?" "Caesar's," they replied. "Then pay to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is God's. The image of Caesar is on the coin. Give it to him. It belongs to Caesar." But He added, "The image of God is upon you, for you have been created in the image of God. It belongs to God. Therefore, give yourself to God." His plotters walked away in silence, deeply baffled. God must be our first seeking and allegiance.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"I WONDER sometimes, Dicky," I told my husband, "just what would be the reaction of 'the neighbors,' if they could hear you in some of your better efforts at threatening me with hairbrushes and other lethal weapons."

"You'll think they're lethel," he growled, "if I see any signs of a qualm in your system over our prize royal heel, fugitive King Georges."

Then he gave me a reluctant grin.

"I'm canny," he said. "I never sound off my broadcasts when any outsider is listening in, any more than I leave the mark of a fist or a foot on you when I beat you up. But I agree that if they could overhear me, you could get a divorce anywhere on their testimony within thirty minutes."

He struck an attitude and began to mimic an imaginary excitable housewife.

"Oh, your Honor, the threats that brutal man made to his wife."

"'Many's the time your Honor,'" he went on, "'that I've heard him threaten to beat her up with hickory sticks and hairbrushes, and chairs, and to skin her alive.'

"They probably would balk at 'flay' which is the word I use," he said, "but you get the general idea."

"I do," I said with emphasis, although I returned the gamin grin with which he finished his burlesque. "And I also get the idea of the mood which Katie must be acquiring."

"Right you are," he agreed quickly. "You understand your role, don't you?"

"I ought to. It's very simple," I told him. "I'm to hide myself back of a door slightly ajar, and eavesdrop on your session with Georges."

"Correct as the hinges of the hot place," he told me. "Just one amendment. When you 'gather us up with your eyes' at the close of the meal, say that you're going to look over the house, and would like Katie and Mrs. Ticer to go with you. Tell them anything you like, once you're out of Georges' hearing, and then beat it for your vantage point in Dad's wing. The Ticers and Jim—nor yet Georges—won't tumble to the spiel I'm going to give 'K,' and we'll be able to get up to Dad's wing with nobody suspecting our errand."

"You talk as though you were going to murder Georges," I said, laughing.

"It may easily come to that," Dicky retorted darkly, and on that dire prediction, we went back to the kitchen.

Katie heaved a gargantuan sigh of relief as we entered the kitchen.

"You coom shoost in time," she proclaimed, as if we had brought a last minute reprieve for a condemned prisoner. 'Dot scheecken she rooined eef she stand two meenits longer."

"Lead me to that chicken and those biscuits, Katie," Dicky said sonorously. "You have plenty of biscuits?" he added anxiously.

Katie tossed her head airily.

"Vot you tink, after all dese years feeding dis family?" she demanded. "Eeef I not know enough now to make oop stacks and stacks of beescuits, Me, I ought to have my head examined. You coom right dees vay, Meester Graham, und sit down mit Meesis Graham. Dot king, und dot big detecatuff, dey already in dining room, but Me, I-no gif dem not vun bit of eats yet."

KAISER-FRAZER IN STOCK INVESTIGATION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—The securities and exchange commission today prepared to open a public investigation into the collapse of a banking agreement to sell $10,000,000 of Kaiser-Frazer stock.

Announcing the probe last night, the SEC said the hearings scheduled here April 12 are to determine whether fraud or illegal stock manipulation were involved.

SEC investigators have been looking into the sudden withdrawal on Feb. 9 of Otis and Co. of Cleveland, and the First California Co. of San Francisco, from a contract to offer 900,000 shares of Kaiser-Frazer common stock to the public at $13 a share.

Its order for a public investigation, the commission said, "is not to be construed as a determination that any provisions of the statutes or the commission's rules have been violated."

Hanna Enroute To Face Forgery Charges

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, March 24—Mark Hanna III, great-grandson transfer, today to Buffalo, N. Y., of the late U. S. Senator Mark Hanna of Ohio, was scheduled for to face trial on forgery charges.

Extradition papers for Hanna arrived yesterday from Buffalo. They were to be signed sometime today in federal court. He has been held in Orleans parish prison since his arrest here last week by the FBI on charges of forging two $30,000 checks on an uncle, C. H. Hanna of Cleveland.

8 ET 40 SALON MEETS

Plans were discussed for initiation and a luncheon to be held in April at a meeting of Marion Salon No. 251, 8 et 40, Monday night in the American Legion Club 102 rooms on East Center street. Mrs. Margaret Foreman was appointed to be in charge of arrangements for the initiation. A report was given by Mrs. Alta Morris on an annual luncheon meeting held March 7 in Columbus. Others attending the luncheon were Mrs. Gussie Campbell of Mt. Gilead and Mrs. Inez Winget of Edison. Refreshments were served with Mrs. Sadie Bender of Cardington as hostess.

Steel Firms Gamble On Coal Tieup End

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 24—Steel firms keeping output high this week are gambling that the coal tie-up will not last long, Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today.

The publication estimated the ingot rate at 96.5 per cent of rated capacity, down one-half point. Assessing probable effects of the gamble by steel companies, it said:

"If they lose, it means that in the next few weeks the steel rate will fall rapidly, shipments will be held up and the general hysterical cry for steel will again be raised."

The Iron Age found nothing this week to indicate the miners would return to the pits soon.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Relief for Minor Foot Ills

Primitive man does not have the comforts of civilization but, on the other hand, he misses one of its prime discomforts, too. He does not have trouble with his feet. That is a disability which seems to be reserved for civilized men alone, particularly for those who live in cities and must walk on hard level pavements or stand long hours at the work which earns their living.

Of course, there are other factors, also, which may account for aching, painful feet in the individual case. For instance, people who are overweight seem to suffer especially from foot trouble. Prolonged illness often makes for difficulty in this way, too, because it tends to weaken the muscles of the feet.

Perhaps the greatest factor of all is the wearing of improper or poorly-fitting shoes. This is particularly true of women.

As we all know, feet vary greatly in shape. Some individuals have long, narrow feet; others have short, wide feet. Thus, if all people wore the same type of shoes, the foot structure would be crowded in some instances, while in other cases, the shoes would be too loose. Of course, crowding leads to corns, bunions and ingrown toe-nails, while wearing shoes that are too loose makes for calluses and corns.

It is a well-known fact that from five to ten times as many women as men have foot troubles. The reason for this is not hard to find—it lies in the wearing of high-heeled shoes that throw the body weight on the front part of the foot which was never intended to bear the entire weight of the body. Furthermore, if there is any weakness of the feet, the wearing of high-heeled shoes will only exaggerate the difficulty.

Low-heeled shoes are better for the feet, in spite of the false idea some people have that wearing such shoes may lead to falling of the arches.

The important factors in keeping feet strong and free from trouble.

1. Cleanliness.
2. The wearing of proper stockings or socks.
3. Selection of the right kind of shoes.

Daily bathing of the feet and thorough drying are important. Some may favor the use of a bland foot powder. The stockings should, of course, be neither too tight nor too loose. It is helpful to change socks every day, and to have several pairs of shoes, alternating their wear.

Insofar as shoes are concerned, they must fit well and be properly constructed. The toes should be broad enough, the heel not too high, and the part of the shoe around the heel of the foot should fit snugly.

If foot trouble develops, the services of a physician should be obtained so that the exact type of disorder present may be determined and proper treatment started. Many cases of painful, aching feet can be easily corrected by attention to these matters of foot care, plus such specialized treatment as exercise and the wearing of felt pads in the shoes to support the arch. It is only in a few cases that protracted treatment is needed.

Questions and Answers

J. W. G.: I have a pain in my leg when I walk a few minutes. The toes of this foot feel numb and cold. What can be done about this disorder?

Answer: It is likely that your difficulty is due to a disturbance of the circulation. It is possible that you have what is known as Buerger's disease.

The exact cause of this condition is unknown. However, it has been found that in this disease the walls of the blood vessels become thickened, and there may be a clot in the blood vessels. This tends to shut off some of the blood that should be carried to the muscles and other tissues of the leg.

John Lewis Abuses His Power

THERE is no end of the soft coal strike in sight. John Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, is staging one of his most spectacular demonstrations of personal power—another paralyzing work stoppage brought about with scarcely more than a nod of his head.

He can argue and it can be argued in his behalf that he is staying within the law. Legal technicalities are being satisfied. They probably will continue to be satisfied. Mr. Lewis has good legal advice. He is a shrewd strategist. But how shrewd is it to stage a demonstration of personal power under present circumstances?

As founder of the CIO, Mr. Lewis opened the door to the Communists, whose mischief has done so much to give labor unionism a black eye and to give the United States government some of its worst moments during a period of acute international danger. His high-handed attitude did more to bring about the Taft-Hartley reform of labor-management law than any single thing that happened after passage of the Wagner act—and further reform will be forthcoming if further abuses of labor monopoly occur. Members of United Mine Workers, once the beneficiaries of public sympathy and support in the struggle for better working conditions and wages, have been losing sympathy and support as it became plain they were dominated by one man with a habit of abusing his power. The rights of an individual in a representative democracy cannot take precedence over the rights of a majority.

Mr. Lewis has challenged this proposition many times. He is challenging it again. But each fresh challenge has added to the determination of his countrymen to protect themselves. They have found ways and means in the past to protect themselves. Mr. Lewis is in the process of proving they need still more protection from men like him.

It Would Help

THE realistic Dutch, coming to grips with the Moscow-bossed campaign to saddle Europeans with the curse of dictatorship, have hit on one especially good idea. It would help others too.

The Dutch idea is to unmask the conspiracy of Communism and call it by its right name. Communism, Dutch speakers and magazines are saying, is as misleading a label as national socialism was in Hitler's time. It isn't communism the Kremlin has for sale but a police state that should be called Stalinism, in recognition of the Russian dictator's part in perfecting its techniques of terror. In this connection it's recalled that Stalin never referred to Germans during the war or since as National Socialists or Nazis but always as "Hitlerites." He recognized what the Dutch recognize now—that dictatorship tries to make itself seem to be something else to make it palatable for the gullible, with their infinite capacity for believing what isn't so. In the Netherlands, the ideology of communism has a certain attraction that would be wiped out if the so-called Communist party were called what it really is—a conspiracy to foist a police state on unwilling victims.

Tally Ho!

BRITAIN'S fox hunters have run into a patch of thorny covert. The house of commons, which includes many who take a dim view of fox hunting, is considering outlawing it as an expensive, frivolous pastime.

Those who don't hunt the fox always have viewed the pink-coated gentry with derision or suspicion. Oscar Wilde described fox hunters as "the unspeakable after the uneatable." Farmers in such an intensively cultivated land as England ordinarily don't welcome hunters on their fields. British fox hunters today pursue their sport ostensibly as "vermin exterminators," but it's an expensive pastime. Using gasoline for horse vans and keeping huntsmen, grooms and attendants from more productive work.

The temper of the times doesn't bode well for the British huntsman. The average Briton is more concerned with flushing a living from his weary land than with running down foxes.

Dollars Make the Mare Go

DURING the war some South American nations built up such large credit balances it seemed unlikely they ever would be pressed for dollars again. But now the Export-Import bank has asked congress for permission to lend South America another half billion dollars.

South America wasn't damaged by war; instead it enjoyed unprecedented wartime prosperity. Apparently the inclusion of Eire and Sweden in the Marshall plan makes South America feel that it, too, is entitled to more help. While not forsaking our good neighbor role, we can wistfully wonder if nations with the apparent wherewithal for self-sufficiency will ever be able to operate their economies without borrowed dollars as lubricants.

Did You Know

As early as 1830 oysters were canned in Baltimore and shipped by wagon to Pittsburgh.

Estimates for 1935-36 indicate that U. S. families having incomes under $500 a year spent on the average a third of their incomes for housing and that families with incomes of more than $15,000 a year spent less than one-tenth of their incomes for housing.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Palestine and Trieste—Outcome of Errors.

BECAUSE we have lived in crisis and fear for nearly two decades, we lack the stability to appraise historic values. Courage is not cautious; it is lack of character; it is egotism degenerated to egocentricity. It is cowardice rather than principle that controls policy in this country now. It is not the caution of statesmanship in the face of great event, it is the petty fear of those who dare not meet oblivion. It is not national; it is personal.

SOKOLSKY

Let us analyze Palestine and Trieste as examples of the pursuit of opportunity rather than adherence to principle.

The Palestine problem arises out of the Balfour declaration in 1917. Therefore, there has been ample time to formulate a policy which is based either upon high principle, self-interest, or a combination of both. Up to 1945, the United States ostensibly supported the general purposes of the Balfour declaration, which recognized the establishment "in Palestine of a national home." The British in 1939 offered, in a white paper, a solution to that problem which was actually as good, if not superior, to the partition plan of the United Nations. This 1939 plan was rejected by American Zionists who led in opposition to Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who, as world head of the Zionists, was willing to accept it.

Expert Work

The then president of the United States, who exerted an unparalleled influence over American Jewry, played a double-game, supporting both the Jewish and British positions with such skill as only he could display.

Subsequently war came and went. The Arabs were generally pro-Nazi, but the British, viewing the complicated problems of their waning empire, courted them. Mr. Roosevelt then supported both the Jews and the Arabs so ingeniously that he kept, for himself, the support of the American Jews on election day, while he assisted the Arabs to recreate a universal state, financed by American money and credits.

Harry Truman inherited this situation and viewed it strictly in terms of an American election issue. He wanted to preserve the economic advantages of our association with the Arab universal state, whereas George Marshall wanted to maintain rigidly the diplomatic and military alliance with Great Britain which is the basis of his policy. But they did not wish to antagonize the Jewish vote in big cities.

The partition plan was put over by the United States on the assumption that it would assist Truman to be reelected. As soon as Harry Truman's calculators were assured that not only would he not carry New York state, but that Henry Wallace would probably get more votes in New York City than Truman, the President and his amazing secretary of state decided to kill partition, which they have done—killing the last vestige of UN authority along with it.

Fear of Failure

Their only excuse for killing partition is that they cannot put it over, largely because they fear an international force lest the Russians demand representation in it equal to that of the United States. Were such a force composed of citizens of countries other than the United States and Russia, it would undoubtedly include soldiers from behind-the-iron-curtain countries. Having no desire to face that issue, they junk the charter of the United Nations. Is this the time and the way to abandon it?

Again, Trieste was an Italian city with a mixed population including Yugoslavs. It should have remained Italian, but to placate Stalin and Tito, we endangered the national existence of Italy, threatened the peace of the Mediterranean and imperiled France by making Trieste a "free territory" under a governor-general appointed by the United Nations. The "free territory" is now junked and the Italians, on the eve of an election, are encouraged to believe that Trieste will be returned to them. This is, of course, an election bribe and may be wonderful policy.

Manchuria and Ethiopia killed the League of Nations. Palestine and Trieste can kill the United Nations just as effectively. Is that the way the administration in Washington wants it? If so, why not simply withdraw from UN and say that it was all a mistake? That would make more sense than the immature, opportunistic conduct of the past six months.

Formula for Non-Partisanship

By Raymond Moley

THE hush which greeted President Truman's special message has ended in the buzz of political surmise. We Americans are hardened democrats, and we insist upon our politics, rain or shine, war or peace. Perhaps the best way to intensify political speculation is to ask, as did the President, that politics be forgotten.

He said: "The American people have the right to assume that political considerations will not affect our working together. The world situation is too critical, and the responsibilities of this country are too vast to permit any party struggle to weaken our influence for maintaining the peace."

MOLEY

We have no right to assume that Mr. Truman was not entirely sincere in this appeal.

However, it would have been more generous and more likely to accomplish his purposes if the President had said something like this:

"Four years ago, largely at the initiative of Republican Candidate Dewey and of Secretary of State Hull, there was initiated a bi-partisan approach to foreign affairs. That covenant still stands. I commend the senate for its action on ERP and I have no reason to expect unnecessary delay in house action on the same subject.

"I also note that Republican leaders favor a greatly increased air force and larger aid to China. I am prepared to meet these additions to my program with an open mind to to agree on a consolidated program.

"Moreover, to make certain that no political capital be derived by either party from this great national effort, I repudiate in advance any claim in the forthcoming campaign that my election is essential to the success of our foreign policy. We shall seek no votes by smearing Republicans with the term 'isolationist.' I am sure that whoever is elected in November will deserve the support of all Americans."

A campaign fought in the spirit of such a declaration would be something to live in history. But it is hardly possible to expect such non-partisanship. In 1940 and 1944, Henry Wallace and others stumped the country telling voters, in substance, that a vote for the Republican candidate was a vote for Hitler. And no reproof came from the President for this demagogery.

Already, ingenious figures are appearing to show Republican opposition to international measures in congress. The figures, it is said, show the "isolationism" of the Republican party. This is no way to invite cooperation. Mr. Truman would be more of a statesman if he began his campaign by repudiating not only Henry Wallace but also the over-zealous partisans in his own party.

Calluses vs. Communism

ERIC JOHNSTON, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, recently told the Washington chapter of the American Institute of Banking what he thought was the best way to lick communism.

"Production which helps to get rid of despair and misery is the quickest way," he said. "We don't get rid of communism in a concentration camp. We get rid of it by making our system work better than theirs; by giving more things, more security and more freedoms to all people.....There is this to be said for the communist: He gives more than lip service to his cause. From a capitalist's point of view, he may be a crackpot, but he's an energetic one. His trade is making capitalists unhappy, and he goes at it with the fire and zeal of a crusader. We free enterprisers—all of us—have been too smug and too complacent in believing that we could have free enterprise in the world largely by talking about it. We've got to step out of our panelled offices and work up a sweat in a crusade for free enterprises and acquire some new calluses. We've got calluses, all right, but they're in the wrong places. We need to have them where they show."

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

You've Got to Pay the Pianist

An Ohio woman has refused to pay 34.6 per cent of her income tax because that portion of the national budget is for military purposes and she doesn't believe in war.

Who, this side of the Politburo, does?

War is hardship and suffering and tragedy and waste. War is also the only language some people can be made to understand.

Refusing to pay taxes because you don't believe in war is as logical as committing suicide at bedtime for fear you'll die in your sleep.

The best insurance against war is to be ready for it. Unless we're prepared for the next one, we could be atomized before we're mobilized.

Besides, we can't have citizens refusing to pay taxes just because they disapprove of this or that function of the national government. They'd have to raise all Mr. Truman's salary north of the Mason-Dixon line.

Words of the Wise

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself; nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles. —Emerson

Mrs. Frank Parr was reelected president of the Jolly Hour club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. R. A. Titus of Pies avenue.

Richard Howard, ninth grade pupil at Vernon Heights school and Clyde Kimbel, junior at Harding High school, were informed that their essays on "My Responsibility as a Citizen," in the state American Legion and Auxiliary contest for the year, were among the 24 selected from 192 entries from eight counties as winners in District No. 6.

Miss Dorothy Baker, fiancee of Max Thibaut, was an honor guest when Mrs. Ronald Long entertained with a kitchen shower at her home in Prospect.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Mrs. Mary E. Thomas, 87, widow of John H. Thomas, former Marion postmaster and county clerk of courts, who died the preceding day at her home in Boston.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, March 24, 1928.

Members of the senior class of Harding High school who were to have parts in "Smilin' Through" at the Grand theater May 23, went to Granville in company with several other pupils and three members of the faculty to witness a production of a play by "The Masquers," Denison university dramatic club. Members of the cast in the party were Edward Sloan, Robert Elliott, Donald Hunter, George Stafford, Robert George, Roland Snow, Anna Von Endt, Margaret Schlientz and Elma Sage. Others in the party were Misses Mildred Crow and Mary Helphrey, members of the faculty, Miss Lucile Foreman, faculty member and dramatic coach, and Vivian Rettig, Gladys Brobst and Lucille Schindler, students.

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE pattern holds, whether for a Nennt or a Fierlinger or a Wallace. Always an alliance between a non-Communist liberal and the Communists leads to the same ends. First the liberal finds himself so captured, so bound and gagged, that there is no escape short of political suicide. Then he must turn and destroy his old associates on the non-Communist Left. Then the curious process of fatty degeneration of the accepted standards of political honesty and personal sincerity, which an alliance with the Communists must in the end always force upon a liberal, sets in.

The first part of the pattern has already been described in this space. But C. B. Baldwin, chief Wallace manager, has just obligingly supplied further evidence. Few of the perfectly honest people who perfectly honestly believe that Henry Wallace points the way to peace would grasp the significance of a little-noted announcement by Mr. Baldwin this week. Mr. Baldwin has announced with some pride that Seymour Linfield has been appointed to "direct veterans and youth work" for Wallace, in response to a "grass roots" demand.

One Omission

Mr. Baldwin points out that Mr. Linfield is a combat veteran and an associate general counsel of the United Electrical Workers, which happens to be run by the Communists. What Mr. Baldwin fails to point out is that Mr. Linfield was one of the most active members of the Young Communist League, and that there is no reason to believe that he has changed either his political opinions or his political affiliations. Thus the tight grip of the Communist machine on the Wallace movement is further tightened.

The second part of the pattern—the political assassination of old New Dealers and non-Communist liberals to which Wallace has now lent himself—has also been described in this space. Examples of the third part of the pattern, the development of a curious double standard of political honesty, abound: the Baruch episode, the Steinhardt episode, certain incidents on Wallace's trip abroad and so on. But perhaps the most striking example is the story of Wallace's relationship with his successor as secretary of commerce, W. Averell Harriman.

Evidence to the Contrary

Some months ago, Wallace came to Washington to make an open air speech attacking the Administration's foreign policy. Before and during this rally, there was much Wallace talk that Washington had become a police state, that government employes were threatened with dire retribution if they listened to Wallace and so on.

No mounted Cossacks, however, appeared to ride down the innocent populace which somewhat apathetically gathered to hear Wallace speak. On the contrary, Harriman somewhat anti-climactically urged employes of the commerce department to attend the Wallace rally, so that they could "hear the other side."

Wallace heard of this gesture, and wrote his successor an admirably generous letter. "You are certainly a good sport," he wrote. He was "deeply touched," he wrote, when despite their disagreement on foreign policy, he discovered a number of "people from the commerce department whom you had encouraged to come." Wallace concluded, "This is still America and you are doing your part to keep it so."

That is the private Wallace version of Harriman—a good sport, who is a friend and protector of American liberties. The public Wallace version of Harriman differs markedly—indeed, it is strikingly similar to the version of "The New York Daily Worker," in which Harriman is portrayed as a Wall Street imperialist, busily dragging the United States down the road to war, presumably for the personal profit of W. Averell Harriman. Moreover, to Wallace, Harriman is no longer a friend of civil liberties. He is, rather, one of the three chief enemies of civil liberties. "The departure from the cabinet," Wallace shouted at a recent rally in Harlem, "of Messrs. Royall, Forrestal, and Harriman . . . would be welcome evidence that the President really means what he says when he speaks of civil liberties."

The bare-faced dishonesty of this sort of thing is underlined by the fact, which Wallace must know, that Harriman is a consistent and passionate defender of civil liberties.

World Health Project

By The Associated Press

GENEVA—Medical and public health experts from 64 nations are expected to take part in the first world health assembly, convening here on June 24 to establish the World Health Organization as a permanent specialized agency of the United Nations.

The assembly will be asked to approve an ambitious program. It will assist medical relief and research work throughout the world. It will attack epidemic diseases on a worldwide scale. It will draw up international medical conventions and act as adviser on public health problems to the United Nations.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Demi-Tasse Home

The trend in house building is decidedly toward the one-story demi-tasse, close coupled economy-sized home. At first regarded as a makeshift offspring of depressions and wars, the half-pint dwelling has gone too far for that. It seems here to stay.

PHILLIPS

Home development sites all over the land are dotted with homes shucked of old-time standard features such as an upstairs room, an attic, a cupola or a flight of stairs. The upper floor strikes some observers as much a thing of yesterday as the nickel glass of beer, the five-cent stogie and a straight answer to a congressional committee.

Generally speaking the home of 1947 is something mom and pop would have thought inadequate for pigeons. They would have required more room for a couple of laying hens. It is a garage with living rooms to match. Everything is close to the ground, including the roof.

* * *

The automobile, radio, movies and road map and electric equipment are responsible for the Tom Thumb domicile. For they have created a new design for living. The era when people stayed home much has gone. The age of gadget living, fireside concentration, dinner parties and family gatherings is fading out.

* * *

Mother's place is in the home . . . when she is laid up.

* * *

The first question in selecting a house now is "As a dwelling has it everything we could desire by way of a garage?"

* * *

And why not? America no longer has much use for indoors, even in small doses. The motor car has become the fairy prince with magic wand, the flying carpet of Bagdad. The question, "How long is the wheel base?" has replaced "How large is the pantry?" and for every person asking "Does the fireplace work?" you will find 100 demanding "Are there arm trays in the rear seat?"

* * *

Mom and pop used to have to stay home most of the time. They get the same kick out of the long trip from the back kitchen to the dance that their sons and daughters get from a dash to Canada.

* * *

There were always a few rooms in the ruggedly rambling old homestead that hadn't been visited too recently and there was thought to be more charm in a beautiful spiral staircase than in an assortment of overhead garage doors ever designed.

* * *

And mother held a roomy pantry dearer to her heart than Joe's Frankfurter Grille.

* * *

(Still there is no denying the fact she aged rapidly and wore out earlier doing all the necessary housework and just sitting around in her spare time listening to the old man pick at the banjo. Maybe it's all for the best.)

"THREE more men were added to the Snow Branch quartet last night."—Asbury Park Press.

* * *

That's gradually completing the project, say we.

"Draft!" exclaimed Oscar Purkey today. "Why, I hardly got my shoes tied after I'm sworn the last physical!"

If Italy goes Communistic it will prove beyond all doubt that there is such a fellow as the guy who dives from the top of a tower into a waterbucket with an anchor around his neck and then does it as an encore.

A general just let off on pretty serious charges with a sentence of 20 months brings from ex-PFC Oscar Purkey the crack, "The KP work they used to hand to a GI tied him up longer than that."

"President Truman in addition to a pith helmet, a pepper and salt yachting hat and a sulky cap has just bought a tropical sunhat with built-in goggles."—News Item. It's that old haberdashery urge.

Who's Repulsive?

By TRUMAN TWILL

A professional weight-reducer in Hollywood started a fight the other day she won't be able to finish. "For years," she crowed, "we've been screaming at middle-aged wives to keep up with their husbands. They've used every modern beauty aid and method to do it. Now they're not only up with the men, they're ahead of them."

She blames the men's condition on the too heavy meals that women encourage them to eat, hinting that the idea is to make the men so fat they will be repulsive to other women. This may or may not be true but probably is an inaccurate generalization. That's not the point, however. The point is that this female says middle-aged wives are in better all-around shape than their husbands.

That's a preposterous generalization. No argument about it. For every well conditioned and well preserved woman married to a man who has let himself go—and looks it—this is an offer to produce a trim, lean and well groomed man who is married to a frump. Furthermore, it will be demonstrated that frumpiness among females far exceeds that of the neglect which the Hollywood person claims is general among men.

There are two reasons for this. One is the relative standardization of men's clothing. Men do not have the wide latitude in selection that women have, especially women who lack good taste and frequently go haywire in their attempts to conceal with frills and furbelows what no longer can be concealed; i.e., that they have lost their attractiveness.

The other is the well known fact that the line of distinction between attractiveness and repulsiveness in males is vague. Many men even make capital of their defects, to make themselves attractive. But among women the line of distinction is sharp. They're either attractive or they aren't. Like the little girl with the curl who was very, very good when she was good and when she was bad she was horrid.

Take a look. Size up the married couples. Check off the women married to men who obviously have quit caring about their appearance and show it. Then check off the men married to women who may or may not have quit caring but might as well quit caring because no one else cares any more, except to wonder vaguely how bad things can get before they can't get any worse.

At best it will come out about 50-50. At worst it will come about 60-40 in favor of the men. Hay, men?

War Against Termites

Adding to the possible troubles of home builders and purchasers is the threat that termites may some day invade the premises. Preliminary results of experiments by the Agricultural Research Administration indicate that certain poisons in the soil may furnish protection supplementary to the safety that is built into the structure. Significantly, the report states that faulty construction—putting wood down into the ground—is responsible for most termite infestations.—O.S.U. Science and Appliance.

...RICES HOLD ...N USED CARS

...ers Must Depend on Old ...e Net Despite New Car Output.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

...T, March 24—If you ...e more for your used ...have to wait another six ...f you want top price you ...ll get it about June 15. ...r else may be said ...sed car market it is not. It had a tough win- ...es are moving upward, ...for Chevrolets, Fords ...ths. Late models of ...es still are bringing ...list prices in many ...

...erations are the early ...eks will bring a heavy ...used cars. The present rate of new car production, although rapidly nearing pre-war normal levels, will not fill the coming summer demand. That means the used carlots will get a lot of business, especially between June 1 and the end of July.

Demand Despite Output

In those two months the factories may turn out 700,000 passenger cars; but barring an unexpected cut in buying power there will be 5,000,000 persons still seeking automobiles. Most of them will want cars in June, July and August. For the most part they'll have to get them from the used car lots.

There probably is no major industry as sensitive to outside influences as is the automotive business. Both new and used car markets would be hard hit by any development affecting purchasing power. At the same time any curtailment of the car industry's steel supply reducing new car output would send a couple of million automobile seekers to the used car lots.

Generally the used car dealers will not lose money this year, even though their operations after midsummer will be curtailed sharply. A relatively small number were forced out of business last winter and some will not go through next winter. However, those able to hold their stock of cars for the coming summer demand will show substantial profits.

Dealers Cautious

The dealers are not likely to be very generous buyers after demand begins to taper off during the latter part of the year. The assumption among many of them is that thousands of this summer's used car buyers will try to resell them after the vacation weeks have passed.

When these vehicles start moving back to the used car lots, prices will shrink again just as they did during the winter just ended. So, in addition to paying a fairly high price for a car to use this summer the average vacationist will also take a sizeable loss if he decides to sell it when the good driving season has gone.

While the average used car merchandiser won't lose money this year, the individual will have to be alert to sell his car at a profit.

The person able to get a new car without trading in the old one may be able to make a profit on the transaction. Most persons, however, have had to trade in used cars to get quick delivery on new vehicles.

Club Members Urged To Act In World Affairs

A MORE active interest on the part of women in national and international affairs was urged by Miss Marie Larsh of Indianapolis, Ind., immediate past president of Altrusa International, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Marion Altrusa club last evening at Hotel Harding

Speaking on the suoject, "The Responsibility of Women as Citizens," Miss Larsh expressed the opinion that women in the United States are not concerning themselves enough with problems which affect the nation and are "not forging ahead as we should with the opportunities afforded us" Pointing to the fact that there are very few women in public places compared in number and privileges accorded them and in comparison with women having the same privileges in other countries

Miss Larsh said there is much to be done with so little time to do it, and expressed the belief that if women were determined they could change a great many things to right affairs in the world today. "I think we might do something with UN—it is the last thing we have to fight for," she stated, and asked her audience if they had ever stopped to think what would happen to their own business or profession should the country go totalitarian. She praised the work being done by women in community activities but added it is time now that women take their place alongside the men in helping to solve national and international problems "if we are to save anything for tomorrow's future."

Mrs Jane Ross, president of the Marion club, presided and Miss Ruth Kramer, president-elect of the International Altrusa club, presented Miss Larsh. Miss Lucilla Postom of Chillicothe, governor of the Fourth Altrusa district, in a brief talk, called attention to the membership and attendance trophies to be awarded and other Altrusa activities.

Guests included Miss Larsh and Miss Helen Brown of Indianapolis the latter president of the Altrusa club in that city. Miss Vesta Yaple of Chillicothe, district secretary members of clubs at Ashland, Chillicothe Findlay, Springfield and Columbus and Mrs. Elmer J. Schoenlaub and Mrs. Harold Mennette of Marion.

An Easter theme was carried out in the table decorations. At the speakers table was a low crystal bowl filled with daffodils and completing the decorations were large and small rabbits encircled with colorful Easter eggs and places were marked with individual candles in Easter motifs. Miss Virginia Grover at the piano played a program of dinner music. The dinner was in charge of Mrs Lucille Jones and members of her social committee and the program was arranged by the club's publicity committee headed by Mrs. Catherine Raub.

K. OF C. MEMBERS TO ACT IN SERVICES

Will Be Honor Guards at Holy Eucharist Rites.

Members of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, will serve as a guard of honor during the exposition of the Holy Eucharist in St. Mary Catholic church on Holy Thursday, as a part of the Holy Week observance. Plans for being present in the church throughout the day and Thursday night until the mass on Good Friday morning were announced by James Kirby, chairman of the committee on Catholic Action, at a meeting of the council Tuesday night

Bernard R. Smith was appointed on the board of trustees, succeeding Charles Gallaher who resigned to go to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he will be employed Thomas E Andrews, state deputy, announced initiation in the major degrees to be held at Port Clinton, April 11 The class will honor William Krupp of that city. The second degree team will take part in initiatory work at Mt. Vernon on April 4 and at Mansfield on April 25.

Final plans were made for the post-Easter dance to be held Monday night at Hotel Harding. Tickets are available from council members or at the door Paul Decker and his orchestra from Columbus will play for dancing from 9 30 to 12 30 o'clock

Delegates to the state convention to be held in Columbus in May will be named at the next meeting April 13.

Youth Night To Be Observed at Epworth

The Holy Week service at Epworth Methodist church tonight will be observed as youth night, it was announced Dr Hazel G. Werner of Drew theological seminary, Madison, N. J., guest preacher, will speak on "What Man Can Do." Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the church plan to attend the service in a body, headed by Miss Mary Jo Stafford, president

For the service Tuesday night, Dr. Werner's subject was "It May Be." The title was taken from the words of Jonathan, from the fourteenth chapter of First Samuel, "It may be the Lord will work for us." This was spoken at the time when the army of King Saul of the Israelites was encamped on a hill, with the enemy Philistines in the valley From this, Dr. Werner drew the parallel of those who have taken up residence in the valley of indecision Important as the moment of hesitancy against which he hoped to guard, he stated Faith is important, for "It is the quality of one's belief that causes a thing to happen Many are in the valley only admiring their faith, like a pocket piece that is carried but not used"

An impressive Lenten program was presented Friday by the Women's Literary club at the home of Mrs. Lowell Sanborn recently. Roll call featured names of famous Ohio churches. Mrs. F. M. Smith led the program, by Mrs. Florence Brown and Mrs. Evah Pratt. Mrs. Pratt gave scriptures and prayer, also a reading on "The Day that Changed the World." Mrs. Brown told of the significance of the crosses, also the story of the painting of "The Last Supper."

Mrs. Ruth Bacon gave two readings. Mrs. Linus Stubbs and Mrs. Brown sang with Mrs. Naaman Case at the piano. A quartet, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Charlot Prouse, Mrs. Case and Mrs. Hoover also sang, and Mrs. T. H. Weisenborn played accordion numbers. The hostess' sister, Mrs. Everett Baugher, assisted. Easter baskets were favors.

Sears, Roebuck Reports 1947 Its Biggest Year

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 24—Sales and earnings of Sears, Roebuck and Company last year were the largest in history, the company reported today.

Thus far in 1948 sales "are meeting our expectations and we believe spring business will be larger than a year ago," Robert Wood, chairman, and Fowler McConnell, president, said in the company's annual report.

The big mail order and retail merchandising firm had net income of $107,739,892, equal to $4.24 a capital share, in 1947 compared with net income of $100,098,516, equal to $4.24 a capital share, in 1946.

The company said its full-time employment in 1947 averaged 105,230 employes while the number of stockholders totaled 92,882.

Thief Helps Self To Food, Another Safe

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, March 24—A hungry burglar is being sought. Last evidence left behind was a small package of frozen fish he dropped after helping himself to all the food there was at the home of Jay Weiser of near Leonardsburg possibly very early Sunday.

Also, a safe-cracking "job" has enforcers of the law intrigued. The fifth of its kind in Delaware county in two months occurred Saturday night when entry was gained to the safe of the Sunbury Lumber Co. by a burglar who escaped with $200.

Two Traffic Accidents Reported by Patrol

Two accidents were reported by the state highway patrol yesterday.

Janice Johnson, 7, of route 4 near Marion suffered bruises of the cheek and hand yesterday at 6:50 p. m. when she was struck by a car four-tenths of a mile north of Marion. The car was driven by Charles Bishop of Columbus, the highway patrol said.

A car driven by Robert Smith of 809 Merkle avenue, with Rosella Orians as a passenger, overturned at 5:20 p. m. yesterday, without injury to either person, when the car failed to make a turn in the road nine-tenths of a mile east of Marion on route 529.

KENTON WORKERS VOTE FOR UNION

North Electric Employes Pick Independent Group.

By The Associated Press

KENTON, O, March 24—The National Labor Relations Board announced today employes of the North Electric Co chose an independent union as their collective bargaining agent.

David C. Finlay, NLRB field representative said the independent union was the only labor group on the ballot.

The union was formed last November after several unsuccessful organization attempts had been made by the AFL International Brotherhood of Electricians.

A group of masked and armed men staged a pre-dawn raid on the plant last Oct. 22 and wrecked much of the company's equipment.

On the same day, the company's strike-bound plant at Galion was the scene of rioting during a dispute between the company and the CIO United Auto Workers also seeking to organize the employes.

Red Tracts Cause Clash in Columbus

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 24—The Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant had another Communist circular incident today.

Last Friday there were brief scuffles at the plant gate when a group tried to pass out circulars signed by the Franklin county Communist party and protesting President Truman's speech asking universal military training and a draft.

This morning four young persons distributed more circulars to those protesting the treatment given Communists last Friday. The new circulars bore the name of Arthur Vincent Rappaport. The real Ohio State university director lists an Arthur Vincent Rappaport as an arts college senior.

Two police cruisers were sent to the plant shortly before 6 a. m. and an hour later extra men were sent. Police Lt. Louis Caretta said he called for help when a minor scuffle occurred at the main gate.

Some workers accepted the circulars and read them then either put them in their pockets or threw them away. A city refuse truck cleaned up the litter.

TAXES

poses, thus holding the tax at lower rates. A dozen states now have this principle by local law.

In addition, there would be percentage reductions ranging from 12.6 per cent in the lowest taxable income to 5 per cent on large incomes.

Also, the measure provides special exemptions for elderly persons and for the blind. It makes adjustments in estate and gift levies.

The house ways and means committee voted 18 to 5 yesterday to throw overboard the $8,560,000,000 tax reductions measure passed by the house nearly two months ago in favor of the $4,800,000,000 senate bill.

The senate vote on passage Monday was 18 more than the 2 to 1 needed to override a veto. The house vote on its $6,500,000,000 measure was 297 to 120—or 18 to spare over the two-thirds veto-stopping margain.

RURAL YOUTH MEET

A program in keeping with St Patrick's day was presented at a meeting of the Ohio Rural Youth Thursday night at the Y M C A. skit, "And the Lamp Went Out," was given by Miss Louise Bender, Miss Alice Price, Walter Rinehart and Don Williams, with Miss Patty Blank as narrator and James Clunk and Miss Hazel Clunk in charge of sound effects. The meeting was in charge of Misses Patty Blank and Hazel Clunk and Merle Ruehrmund. Plans were made to hold a dance at the Armory in April. Folk games and square dancing in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Calhoun provided entertainment.

COUNTY STREAMS UP AFTER HEAVY RAINS

Section of County Road Near Martel Washed Out.

Water level in Marion county streams, including the Olentangy, Scioto and Little Scioto rivers, rose rapidly today following three days of Tuesday afternoon.

A section of county road 171 south of Martel was washed out in the Olentangy bank over its banks last night, County Engineer Walter W. Johnson reported. Road crews are working on the damaged section today as the river went down almost as fast as it had risen, Mr. Johnson said.

Rainfall was measured in Marion at 1.49 inches, one of the heavier single falls so far this year.

State route 203 north of Prospect was reported under water as the Scioto continued to rise. Route 95 from New Bloomington to La Rue was being watched by county road crews ready to put out their signs if the river continued to rise. The Scioto usually crests about 24 hours after a storm peak, the engineer reported.

Drainage ditches throughout the county were running bank full with large area of surface water standing in the fields.

NO PROSPECT OF CUT IN RELIEF BILL SEEN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—Prospects of a house fight to cut the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill faded today.

As the measure to pit American billions and military help against Communism in China and part of Europe rolled into a second day's debate, Rep. Jonkman (R-Mich) told a reporter he is for the full amount.

In the past, Jonkman has led battles to slash foreign aid programs. He opposed them, he said, because he was against letting the state department handle business matters.

But the new program, he said, provides for an administrator free of state department control.

Long Pastor of Same Village Church, Dead

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 24—Rev. John Doescher, 81, pastor emeritus and for 33 years the pastor of St. John's Lutheran church of nearby New Washington, is dead. Funeral services were to be held held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Paul Gerlach officiating, burial in St. John's cemetery. Surviving are one son, and four daughters, of whom Stella A. Sponseller and Elsa H. Schieber live here, and Naomi E. Philips at Marysville.

While he was pastor in Detroit, Rev. Doescher founded Grace Lutheran church.

CHICAGO MAN ARRESTED

James Ceaser Jackson, 31, of Chicago, Ill., was found asleep under a bench in the waiting room of Union station by police at 3:52 p. m. and was jailed on a suspicious person charge. He was given a suspended fine and costs by Judge Hazen in court this morning and released upon the promise he would leave town today.

SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Willis Wicker, 42, 615 Herman street was arrested at 7:30 a. m. today on a charge of non support filed by Charlene Wicker. He was sentenced in municipal court to six months in the Columbus workhouse, upon being found guilty of the charge after a hearing this morning.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Police reported one traffic accident this morning. At 6:56 a. m. a car driven by Robert E. Blocksom, 30, of Twin Oaks trailer camp collided with a parked car owned by Charles H. Robinson of 654 North State street. Blocksom told police he was blinded by the sun when he approached the Robinson car parked on East Fairground street. Damage to both vehicles was slight.

C. & O. Asking Bids On Issue of $5,500,000

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, March 24—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway company today called for bids on an issue of $5,500,000 par amount on a third 1948 series of serial equipment trust certificates.

Proceeds from the issue will be used for the purchase of railroad equipment at an aggregate cost of $5,969,320. The bids will be opened April 7.

Included in the equipment to be purchased are 1,000 70-ton steel hopper cars, 500 50-ton steel gondola cars, 200 50-ton steel boxcars and two 1,000 horsepower switching locomotives.

SPRING

found starched embroidered flounces, matching camisoles, ribbon and laces. Hose will lend harmony to costumes in shades of navy blue, misty gray blue, mauve gray, cocoa beige and other hues.

As for accessories—they are as new as the new look. Picture scarves in lipstick red, blues, greens, navy and myriads of contrasting colors. Newest are the gay taffeta bows to be worn close around the neck, and the pearl and silk chiffon scarf in two-tone colors or plain. White gloves have the call for Easter and strange to say navy is last on the list. Materials are fabric, kid and doeskin. Purses and handbags have turned to the new look, tall and slim or boxy and are found in faille, dressy calf, gabardine and the popular spring suede. Black is always good, while Navy, Balenciaga, lipstick red, kelly green and other brighter tones will enhance the Easter costume.

Umbrellas for Showers

Should showers threaten there are two-tone nylon umbrellas with pressed flower handles in gay reds, blues and other bright colors.

Initiated scarf holders are new and there also are other festive bits of jewelry to enhance the feminine costume. Drop earrings are bidding for favor, mostly in gold and silver and moonstone necklaces call for earrings and pins to match. Necklaces are growing in favor and pins and earrings are bright and gay with sparkling stones and in metal designs.

And the teen-ager or teeney-weeney can easily be a replica of her mother with a bit of variation. There are coats to be had just like the grownups, swing back, full length and shorties, fashioned with puritan collars, ties and scarves. Ballarine skirts with matching jackets, dresses in pastel shades in crepe and colorful cottons with Swiss embroidery trim and hats that are just the last word in smartness. Teen-agers will find the answer in sailors and bonnets, and little sister may choose from felt rollers, derbies, taffeta scotties, natural colored straw bonnets and half hats in natural straw and colors. For bigger sister there are derbies, cloches with feathers, felt bumper rollers, French berets, imported Basque berets, and hats boasting of gay plaid bows or perkie feathers. Purses and gloves matching or in contrast are to be had in many lovely colors.

New Look for Men

For the men it's the new bold look. Flannels and worsteds are to be had in the new double breasted models, one button, long roll front and styled with a view to smartness and easy fitting. Equally popular is the three button suit styled single breasted with rolled lapels in drape and lounge models. Younger men will wear trousers reaching a little below the ankle. Some young men will choose the always popular white shirt while others may choose from any number of the wide spread collar style or those boasting of French cuffs. Candy stripes in blue, red, green against white backgrounds will harmonize well with any color suit and sport shirts find popular favor with their solid tones and pastel shades. Others have neat little figures while others boast of checks and plaids. Corduroy sport coats meet with approval in the three button, sack coat and cardigan models and he may choose from maroon, beige natural and blue. Hats are smaller and the newer shades answer to sandstone and Arizona tan. All have either a welt or medium wide bound edge. Color will be found in men's neckwear. Three dimensions are very popular as is the new cross stripe. The windsor knot tie has the new bold look and comes in plain and cross stripes. Handkerchiefs have smart colored borders to add harmony. Browns and tans are to be featured in men's footwear but here too, color is to be found in the blue, wine and brown bucks with crepe soles and for the last word in looking comfortable there are the moccasin styles.

And junior doesn't have to look any farther than the local store for his Easter outfit which can boast of the bold look as well as his elder.

All in all it's going to be a colorful Easter.

DRAFT EXEMPTIONS HAS FRESH BACKING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—Plans to exempt husbands, veterans and men over 27 from any peacetime draft gained fresh backing in congress today.

While Capitol Hill waited for military chiefs to blueprint the nation's defense machinery, two lawmakers spoke out for keeping manpower demands within narrow limits.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the senate armed services committee, told a reporter he expects any plan to revive selective service to leave out "all real veterans of the last war as well as all married men."

And Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY), who wrote the World War II draft law, said he thinks the age span should be 19 to 26 or 27. He also suggested exempting veterans.

Wadsworth said Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the house armed services committee has asked him to help draw up new draft legislation.

Meanwhile it was learned the senate committee turned down a proposal calling for registration of men up to 45 years old.

Gurney said his committee, still awaiting information from the armed forces "may have a more complete picture by later this week." But he added:

"I don't care if we never get a recommendation from the military. We can draft our own bill."

HERBERT TO SPEAK TO FARMERS TODAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 24—This was "governor's day" at the 36th annual Farm and Home week at Ohio State university.

Gov. Herbert planned to take in some of the many exhibits, and listen to a few of the 75-odd scheduled talks before taking the speakers' platform himself.

Frank Farnsworth, state agricultural director, and Charles F. Kettering, General Motors Research Corp. chairman, were to deliver the other featured addresses on the second-day program of the four-day event.

U. S. Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) last night asked the nation's farmers to "marshall their forces" behind the cooperative movement.

"We must take the offensive and support the cooperative movement to the hilt," Aiken, who lists his occupation as farmer, said. "Either we take the road forward with cooperatives and the family-sized farm, or the road to corporate farming and eventual peasantry."

An estimated 6,500 farmers and their families are attending.

Grand Prairie Pupils Rate High Musically

A group of students of the music department of Grand Prairie school participated in a district music contest held Friday at Denison university in Granville.

Ratings of superior were given Jean Lyon, a first grade student, Charles Myers, who is in the fifth grade, and Dallas Foos, a sixth grade student. Each was entered in the vocal competition. Charlotte Ann Huddle, entered in the first grade vocal event, Jane George, cornet soloist, Jacquelyn Constable, saxophone soloist, and a clarinet ensemble composed of Dickie Kerr, Jean Barkley, Ruth Barnard, Shirley Neff and Connie Jerew, all received ratings of excellent. Receiving good ratings were Carolyn Hite, saxophone soloist, Clara Williams, voice, and Betty George, saxophone.

Miss Ruth Dreyer is instructor of music at Grand Prairie.

POLICE RESIGNATIONS ASKED IN CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 24—A police department probe expected to continue at least two more months was pushed today after three members of the force were asked to resign.

Safety Director William F. Smith announced the action last night at the close of a surprise hearing in city hall. He charged them with associating with known policy racketeers.

He also disclosed he had submitted to County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan evidence on what he described as police shakedowns of policy operators. He did not link the three with these charges.

The trio are Lt. Ernest L. Molnar, 45, former head of the vice squad and a member of the force since 1925, Sgt. Richard G. Ford 35, appointed to the force in 1937, and Patrolman William P. Myers 34, appointed in 1944.

They refused to resign and denied the charges. Smith later said he would recommend to Police Chief George J. Matowitz that departmental charges be placed against them.

Names of all three, the safety director declared, were signed as legal witnesses to the wedding certificate of a man he described as a kingpin in the policy business.

Reached by newsmen, Patrolman Myers admitted he had been present at the wedding and had signed the certificate, but he declared:

"It was all perfectly innocent."

The investigation was started by assistant safety director Alvin J. Sutton soon after he left the FBI some eight months ago to join the department. He said it would continue "at least another two months."

DEMOCRATIC FLAREUP NO LONGER SOUTHERN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 24—Reports of "big-city opposition" and a "serious political situation" in California multiplied signs today that President Truman may face a rough fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

California politicians visiting Washington here said they learned it will not be long before the rash of criticism for Mr. Truman's policies breaks out in their ranks.

Unlike the Dixie complaint against the President's civil rights program, northern opposition is based on the administration's about-face on Palestine.

At Los Angeles, Democratic State Chairman James Roosevelt summoned 62 prospective national convention delegates to an "urgent meeting" in Sacramento next Thursday. Roosevelt issued the call "because of the serious political situation."

He did not amplify. But there have been demands within the party in California for the expulsion of county central committee members who have announced their support of Henry A. Wallace's third party candidacy.

Cincinnati Lady Loses 35 Lbs. Doctor Well Pleased

"When I started using Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. John Reuss, 835 Armory Ave., Cincinnati 14, Ohio. "I weighed 210 lbs.. Now I weigh 175 lbs. My Doctor wanted me to lose weight and since I have been taking Rennel he is well pleased with the results."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

GM HEAD SAYS UNIONS THREATEN U.S. SECURITY

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., March 24—Unions are threatening the economic security of the nation, says President Charles E. Wilson of General Motors Corp.

In an address last night at a chamber of commerce banquet, he asserted:

"The simple fact is that monopoly unions through industry-wide bargaining exercise power over the industrial life of the nation.

"No minority group, not elected by the people and not responsible to the people, can be allowed to exercise such power."

The corporation president said "the present industrial unions are the most powerful monopolies that have ever existed."

He came here to attend the dedication yesterday of a $1,600,000 addition to the Packard electric division.

C.I.B. CLASS MEETS

Family night was observed by the C.I.B. class of the First Evangelical and Reformed church at a meeting Thursday night in the church social rooms. A potluck supper was served preceding the meeting. William Warner presided for the meeting and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ebert Kirkpatrick with prayer by Rev. E. H. Wierth. Contest honors were won by Mrs. John Matthews.

WISE'S STORE IS ENLARGED

Extensive Improvements Now Nearing Completion, Owners Report.

A program of building expansion and re-equipment now in progress at Wise's super-market on East Center street is rapidly nearing completion it was announced today.

The store building has been enlarged to provide 12,000 feet of floor space with overall dimensions of 106 by 120 feet.

New equipment includes 33 feet of self service produce racks, 18 feet of deep freeze space, a 9-foot case for pre-packaged cut flowers, 10 feet of open dairy case, and a 33 foot open self service meat case. All of these units are refrigerated.

A complete line of baked goods, an automatic doughnut machine with a daily output of 6,000 doughnuts, and a coffee bar have also been added. A new drug and sundry department and a pottery department have been introduced.

Automatic electric doors which open before the customer and close after him have been installed. Five banks of cash registers have been installed, and the store parking lot enlarged to accommodate 300 cars. The store managers estimate the new facilities will enable them to serve about 4,000 customers a day with the present complement of 20 employes. The formal opening of the establishment will be held in May.

ARRIVES FOR REUNION, FIRST TIME IN 27 YEARS

Special to The Star

GALION, March 24 — For the first time in 27 years Mrs. Joan Sherman, 73, is enjoying a reunion with two of her children in Galion. She arrived in New York City March 14 from Caesarta, Italy, and was met by her son, Frank Sherman and her daughter Mrs. Angelo Ventrone, also by a granddaughter Betty Ventrone, all of Galion.

This is Mrs. Sherman's second trip to the United States, the first being in 1916. After a five-year stay, she returned to Italy until she sailed from Naples March 3 this year. She now plans to make her home in Galion with her children, and plans to send for a second daughter, now living in Italy, to come to America later.

Mrs. Sherman was one of several passengers on the boat who became violently ill from a stormy voyage. One aged woman died, and for a time it was feared that Mrs. Sherman would not live. She recovered however, in time to enjoy a reunion in New York with relatives and friends.

Stresses Priority Of Freight Importance

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., March 24 — If there is any allocation of scarce material for civilian use, freight cars "simply must come first," New York Central Executive C. L. Jellinghaus said yesterday.

Jellinghaus, a NYC vice-president, addressed a meeting of the Great Lakes regional advisory board. Some 600 area shippers are attending.

He said there are 40,000 fewer freight cars now than at the end of the war. "In the light of things in plain sight, the time to make up that loss should be in 1948, while freight car manufacturers are not in competition with the Army, Navy and Air Force for scarce materials," he said.

Claims Boston D.A.R. Shows Racial Bias

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, March 24—The Boston school committee has barred the Daughters of the American Revolution from sponsoring contests or programs in the city's public schools.

The unanimous action was taken last night on motion of committeeman Isadore H. Y. Muchnick, who said the D.A.R. had "violated nearly every aspect of President Truman's anti-racial program."

St. Mary's Schuler, Stuber Picked on All Mid-State League Teams

Marysville's Evans, Dayton, and Carey's Dennison Round Out Coaches' Selections

By BILL MURPHY

The All Mid-State league basketball team was picked last night at the Mid-State league coaches' banquet at Hotel Harding.

Placing on the first team were two St. Mary players, two from Marysville, and one from Carey.

Dick Schuler and Bob Stuber took a forward and guard spot respectively, with Schuler the only unanimous choice. He was named captain. Harry Evans took the other forward spot, and John Dayton the other guard for Marysville. Big Bill Dennison of the Carey team captured the center position.

Making the second team were John Baldauf of St. Mary and Jack McGuire of Marysville at the forwards, Bob Kelly of Mt. Gilead and Les Wal of Richwood, guards, and Jerry Kingsmore of Marysville at center. Marysville dominated the two teams, placing four men while St. Mary was second with three.

After the dinner Bob Mason of WMRN, who donated rooting trophies to the football and basketball teams, gave a short speech to the 19 coaches and school representatives.

An election of officers for the Mid-State league was held and D. C. Musselman, superintendent of the Mt. Gilead school, was re-elected president, A. E. Wohlers, principal of Carey, vice president, and Paul Wenzel of Marysville secretary. The remainder of the meeting was spent in discussing basketball and football officials—the acceptance or rejection of particular officials for particular games, the cost of future trophies, and a discussion of sportsmanship by both fans and athletes, in the Mid-State league games.

SMITTY'S GIRLS TOP CALEDONIA, 57-28

Smitty's dropped Caledonia by a score of 57-28 last night at the Y. M. C. A. in the first game of a single elimination tournament being run-off by the girl's basketball league. A second game between the Arro Girls and Y-Girls was forfeited by the Y-Gals who did not show.

Miss Carpenter was the big gun for Smitty's with 20 points, and Miss Wright was second with 17 as the Smiths had little trouble with Caledonia. Miss Hogan was high for Caledonia with 14 counters.

Finals in the tournament will be played next Tuesday. Smitty's and Arro will battle for the championship in the final game of the season on the Y planks.

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—The Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of fielding miscues by the New York Giants to register a 4 to 2 victory in an exhibition game yesterday.

The Giants went off to a one-run lead in the first inning but the Pirates got three in the same frame.

* * *

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The Philadelphia Phillies, led by the hitting of Granville Hamner and the pitching of Curt Simmons, upset the world champion New York Yankees yesterday, 6 to 5.

Hamner drove in the winning run in the eighth inning when he followed a walk to Johnny Blatnik with a triple. Simmons, who pitched the last four innings, gave a home run to Joe Page on the first pitch but shackled the Yanks the rest of the way. Page was on the mound when Hamner cracked his triple.

Mansfield Juniors Beat Prospect Rifle Team

At a three position gallery rifle practice match held at the Mansfield Y.M.C.A. Sunday the junior Y.M.C.A. rifle team of Mansfield defeated senior Prospect rifle shooters with an aggregate score of 1318x1500 to 1103x1500.

Miss Beverly Phallen of Mansfield fired the high individual score of 274x300. For Prospect, White, Shuey, Rickey, Gast, Griffith fired.

At the next regular business meeting of the Prospect Rifle and Pistol club April 2, pistol team entries will be chosen for the state match which is being conducted by the Central Ohio Pistol league at Olentangy Village range Sunday, April 11. This will be a class "B" N.R.A. registered tournament.

Sports Shorts

By BILL DIEM
Star Sports Editor

THE All Mid-State basketball team selected by the league coaches last night would pack a mighty wallop if it were ever to play a real game. . . . For the scoring punch, there would be Carey's Big Bill Dennison at center and St. Mary's Dick Schuler a forward, both over-400 men this season, and Marysville's Harry Evans at the other forward spot . . . Two topnotch guards, Bob Stuber of St. Mary and John Dayton of Marysville, would provide a mighty tough defensive.

DICK SCHULER, captain of the honorary squad, racked up 419 points in 25 games for the Irish this year, an average 16.76 per game. . . Bill Dennison made 403 in 22 games for an 18.32 average . . . Both boys shattered school scoring records and Dennison broke the Wyandot county and protest tournament records at Bascom when he sent in 37 points against Ridgeway in a tourney game . . . Harry Evans was a sharp rebound man and a tough guard . . . During the season the men he guarded counted but 28 baskets . . . He scored on 39 of 50 chances from the foul line . . . Bob Stuber was one of the cleverest guarders and scrappiest players in the league . . . St. Mary Coach Gene Fetter figured Bob robbed the opponents of an average 10 points a game by his blocking of attempted shots and ball stealing . . . John Dayton was exceptionally good on rebounds and had the height for it. . . . At six-feet-two he is one of the tallest men on the All Mid-State league team.

* * *

JOHN MULCAHY and Tom Williams are two reasons Lima St. Rose has experienced such successful football and basketball seasons this year. . . . These two boys figured strongly in one of Marion St. Mary's two setbacks on the gridiron this fall, and then went on to become stars on the basketball court . . . Against the Irish gridders, halfback Mulcahy scored two touchdowns and end Williams another and an extra point to blank the locals, 19-0. . . . On the hardwoods, these two athletes paced Lima to the state tournament finals. . . . Both were honorably mentioned on The Associated Press' All-Ohio team, and Mulcahy was selected today on the International News Service's first team. . . . Big (six-foot-four) Tom Williams made honorable mention on the INS selections. . . . Both boys also played on the American Legion Junior baseball team that reached the Ohio finals at Delaware last year.

Other INS All-Ohio selections, which were released today, include Jim Gallant of Bucyrus, honorable mention in the A division, and Kent of Upper Sandusky, honorable mention. Both these men made the AP mention, too.

Michigan Host to NCAA Swimming Meet Today

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 24—The fastest splashers of the collegiate swimming world gathered here today for the 25th annual NCAA swimming championships.

Stars of 34 colleges and universities entered the meet, which starts tomorrow night.

Included are a half-dozen NCAA champions.

Matt Mann, veteran Michigan coach, will pit his Wolverines against defending champion Ohio State in a test of strength that should be one of the meet's highlights.

The Buckeye's little Mike Peppe claims his Onions will win the team title by at least 10 points—if Bill Smith is in shape.

Last year Smith won the 220 and 440 yard free style events and Ohio State's plucky Miller Anderson took the diving honors. Smith and Anderson are back this year, along with a bevy of Peppe-produced divers. Rival coaches virtually concede Ohio State a clean sweep in diving.

Snow Flake To Fight Chaney Tonight

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 24—Henry (Snow) Flake, hard-hitting Buffalo iceman, will unlimber his heavy artillery against Indianapolis' Colion Chaney tonight in an attempt to avenge his only loss in 43 bouts.

Despite a split-decision loss to the Hoosier heavyweight two months ago, Flake was a 6-5 favorite to ice Chaney in the 10-round headliner.

Henry was riding the crest of 39 straight victories, 33 via the kayo route, when he dropped the verdict to Chaney. The 21-year-old Buffalo battler then bounced back for a decision triumph and a later knockout of Pat Comiskey, sixth-ranking Paterson, N. J., heavyweight.

Flake stopped Angel Soulo, Argentine heavy, in the eighth of a scheduled 10-rounder here two weeks ago.

VET LOOP FINALE SET TONIGHT

Bird-McGinnis Meets V.F.W. for Title and Trophy.

A handsome trophy will be presented the winner of the basketball game tonight between Bird-McGinnis Post, American Legion and the V.F.W. at the Armory.

Both teams won rounds in the City Vet league and the game at 9 p. m. tonight will be for the league championship.

The trophy, donated by Vance Sporting Goods, is on display in the store.

A preliminary game starting at 8 p. m. will see Co. C, National Guard, again the Navy club for the league's consolation championship.

These two games will round out the league's 1948 schedule. Next year, it hopes to be bigger with county veterans organizations included in the setup.

NEUN WANTS END OF LOSING STREAK

By The Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24—Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds brought his charges here today and indicated he wanted to end a two-game losing streak.

The Washington Senators scored nine runs on nine hits yesterday at Orlando, winning 9 to 5. The Reds collected nine hits too, but left 15 runners on base. The previous day the New York Yankees won 7-6 as the Reds left 17 men on base.

Neun's first step to halt the loses was to name the man with the whiplash arm, Ewell Blackwell, to hurl. Blackie has started twice in the Grapefruit league this year, giving up no runs and only four hits in eight innings.

Herman Wehmeier, who won 15 of 23 for Syracuse last year, will go to the mound behind the National leader.

This was to have been the third exhibition meeting of the Reds and Phillies. The Reds blasted the Phillies 13-3 in the first appearance, rain forced cancellation of the second contest.

Virgil Stallcup, rookie shortstop being groomed for Eddie Miller's spot, looked rough yesterday as he errored twice. The Jersey City rookie has had a sore elbow since being clipped by a pitched ball last week.

Neun has indicated Walker Cress, righthander who won 15 or 20 last year for New Orleans, may go to either Syracuse or Tulsa.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, March 24—The big project on the book for the National Basketball Coaches association is the filming of a movie that will show approved rules interpretations "on which we all agree." The title probably will be the "The Unfinished Movie." Doug Mills, reporting on the Big Nine's experiment with allowing cage coaches to talk to their players during time outs, claims the only complaint is that the coaches can't think of what to say. Similarly, Colgate's Karl Lawrence, describing his elaborate coaching charts, warned his colleagues: Don't get so mixed up in statistics that you forget to coach."

THE BREAKUP of a hard winter prompted Alden Calkins, who beats the drums for the Hambletonian, to check up on whether horses trained in the sunny south or snowy north have been more successful in the August trotting classic. While southern training is beneficial in preparing for early racing in California, the results don't prove much . . . It may be that the late Walter Cox, who always did his training at Goshen, N. Y., was right in his theory that the stables shipped south not so much for the horses as for the comfort of the trainers.

RESIGNS SPRINGFIELD POST

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 24—Carl F. Schroeder resigned as Springfield High school athletic director yesterday, saying he wanted "to return to the active coaching field." He did not divulge his plans. A native of Massillon, Schroeder formerly was head football and basketball coach at Wittenberg college. He left Wittenberg two years ago to take the high school post.

In 1947 U.S. people, on the average, spent twice as much for goods and services than in 1939.

ROOKIE JOE TIPTON DELIVERS IN CLUTCH

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 24—Husky catcher Joe Tipton was tagged today as a rookie certain to stick with the Cleveland Indians because of his stick-work.

Tipton, who wielded a heavy bat to top the Eastern league crown with a .375 average last year, was the hitter who delivered in the clutch yesterday as the Tribe edged the St. Louis Browns, 6-5, for its seventh exhibition win in 11 starts.

Ken Keltner was perched on second with the tying run in the seventh inning when Joe stepped to the plate. The stocky Georgian delivered a single to center, deadlocking the score, 5-5. The situation was duplicated in the ninth, when Tipton clouted another timely single to score Eddie Fletcher from second with the winning marker.

Other high spots of the victory included Dale Mitchell's return to batting form and Hank Greenberg's first appearance with the Tribe varsity. Hank performed in "varsity" fashion with a long double in his only official trip to the plate, and Mitchell slammed a double and single in three trips.

With Tribe President Bill Veeck still hoping to obtain a starting pitcher or outfielder—using catcher Jim Hegan as bait, the performances of Tipton and Mitchell were doubly gratifying to Indians' Manager Lou Boudreau.

Al Gettel, Don Black and Bob Muncrief, who are expected to round out the Tribe's "top five" on the mound, were slated to hurl here today against the Chicago White Sox. The veteran trio pitched the Indians to a 6-5 triumph over the potent New York Giants last Saturday.

Eddie Robinson, who has been sidelined several days with a wrenched knee, was back in uniform for batting practice yesterday. The handsome first sacker was ordered by physicians, however, to wait until the end of the week before returning to active duty.

Bob Finch, Trautman Aide, Off Sunday For Organization Tour of South America

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 24—American baseball is about to extend a helping hand to the West Indies and the Latin Americas.

Robert L. Finch, soft-spoken but forceful publicity chief of National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, takes off Sunday from New York on a flying jaunt which may bring the "down under" loops into organized baseball.

Trautman estimated 2,500 to 3,000 rookies, first year men, will make their start this season on the long trail toward the major Association clubs will play a few more than 53,000 games this year.

Finch will follow the March 30 opening of the Pacific Coast league into action.

Trautman estimated 2,500 to 3,000 rookies, first year men, will make their start this season on the long trail toward the major Association clubs will play a few more than 53,000 games this year.

Finch will reach Havana March 29 for a conference with members of the Cuban winter league. The next day he'll move over to San Juan for a two-day confab with Jorge L. Cordova, president of the Puerto Rican Professional league. April 1 will find him in the Dominican Republic, where the Dodgers are training.

In Balboa April 2

He plans to arrive in Balboa April 2 for a conference expected to last several days with Stamford Graham, head of the Panama league. "Donny" Donovan of the Canal Zone circuit, and their associates. Both, Finch said, had indicated a desire to join the National Association.

While in Balboa, Finch will decide whether to move on to Venezuela.

"They have as much baseball in Venezuela as they have coffee in Brazil," Finch said, "and they want to join our association, too."

Following his personal talks with the league chiefs, Finch will return to Havana for April 8 and 9 conferences with representatives of all the Caribbean, Central and South American circuits interested in setting up a post-season championship series.

Meanwhile, 458 cities from Vancouver, B. C., Canada, on the north, to Havana, Cuba, on the south, and from San Francisco on the west to Quebec in the east, are poised for the opening of the minor league pennant races.

Orth Wrestles Jack Kelley Thursday

Another double main event card has been signed for the Marion fans Thursday at the armory. In the one ninety minute match Paul Orth has signed to meet the rough Jack Kelley. Last Thursday Kelley proved to the fans that he can take it as well as dish it out when he beat Red Lyons. In meeting Orth, he will have to be on his toes for the Tarzen of the mat is one of the roughest. Balk Estes who subbed for Bill Murray last Thursday and beat Bill Sledge two straight falls has signed to meet Bill Murray. This match should give the local fans one of the best clean matches they have ever seen here. Both matches are for the best two out of three falls. Fred Keenan and Delbert Darnell will wrestle the ten minute prelim at 8:30. Carl Markert & Lewis Gear Store for your best seats. Prices—50c-75c and $1.00.—Adv.

Kentucky Routs Baylor, 58-42

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 24 — Can Kentucky beat Bartlesville's famed Oilers in the Olympic basketball trials?

The question may be a bit premature but cage customers who saw the wonderful Wildcats from Kentucky rout Baylor, 58-42, for the NCAA championship last night already were discussing the possible duel of these two mighty quintets. And the fans were anticipating an individual clash between two great centers, Alex Groza, 6-7 Kentucky pivot from Martin Ferry, O., and the Oilers' seven-foot Bob Kurland.

Before the twain can meet, Kentucky must win two games in its bracket of the trials, which start Saturday. The Oilers have to do the same in the independent part of the tourney. Both are heavily favored to come through for the final in Madison Square Garden, Wednesday, March 31.

Westerville Couple Sing Duet at Calvary

Special music at the revival service of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church Tuesday night was a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Endicott of Westerville. Mr. Endicott, a member of Calvary church and studying for the ministry, is enrolled in Otterbein college at Westerville. Rev. W. L. Mullet of Walhonding, the evangelist, led congregational singing. It was announced that hostesses for tonight are Mrs. Lulu Corwin, Mrs. Harry Crowner and Mrs. Mildred Apt. In his message, Rev. Mullet stated, "We need to look at sin not only through human eyes, but through God's eyes. What a sad experience it is to get people into the church without a genuine experience of salvation from sin."

Bible study is each morning at 10, and prayer meeting each evening at 7.

WALLACE ASSAILED

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., March 24—National Legion Commander James F. O'Neil called Henry A. Wallace a "Russia-firster" last night in a speech before 11th district Legion members. He also charged the third party "was formed to appease Russia and sow seeds of disunity here."

GOVERNOR TO NAME ALCOHOLISM SETUP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 24—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert will be asked to name a governor's committee or state commission to study the problem of alcoholism in Ohio.

The first state-sponsored conference on alcoholism went on record yesterday favoring such action by the governor. At its closing session, the conference authorized state Senator Frank E. Whittemore (R-Akron) to submit the proposal to the governor.

The conference adopted a motion offered by Common Pleas Judge Paul T. Klapp of Troy that a state study group was needed to consider the problem and recommend a solution.

Senator Whittemore presided at a panel talk on Ohio plans for combatting alcoholism. Dr. J. D. Porterfield, state health director, and Dr. E. J. Humphreys, acting commissioner of mental hygiene, said the state at present had no specific plan of providing special facilities for treatment of alcoholics.

Before making an appointment to see the governor, Whittemore plans to confer with members of the organization committee that arranged the conference. The welfare department and other state agencies sponsored the meeting which heard suggestions from nationally known authorities on the problem of alcoholism.

In panel talks, municipal Judge Abner D. Zook of Akron cited the problem of handling habitual drunks appearing in municipal court. He suggested the possibility of a state institution that would be in the nature of a hospital and partly a prison where chronic police court drunks could be treated.

Week's Deliveries Of New Cars Decrease

Marion county deliveries of both new cars and trucks showed a decline during the week ended March 23, Clerk of Courts Calvin Oborn said today. New car deliveries total 17 for the week just ended as compared with 21 units delivered for the previous week. Truck deliveries dropped from nine units for the previous week to three for the week just ended.

Tuesday price after 2 p. m.: Wheat 2.30; No. 3 white oats 1.10.

Range

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 24—Grains opened a little lower on the board of trade today. Profit-taking and uncertainty regarding the government wheat buying program, now that more than enough wheat has been purchased to fill April export allocations, caused light selling at the start.

Wheat opened unchanged to ¾ cent lower, May $2.36-2.35½; corn was ¼ to a cent lower, May $2.-15¾-½, and oats were ¼-½ lower, May $1.10⅜-½.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 24—Narrow irregularity ruled the stock market today.

After a fairly active opening there were occasional slowdowns, with volume well below the pace of recent sessions. Favored issues pushed ahead without attracting any general following. Fractional changes in either direction were widespread near midday.

Higher at times were U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck (on improved earnings report), Gulf Oil, Sinclair oil, Westinghouse Electric, Schenley, Chesapeake & Ohio, U. S. Gypsum and Boeing. Lagging were Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Bethlehem, Commonwealth Edison, International Nickel, International Paper and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Green Camp Services Good Friday at Hall

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, March 24—Good Friday services for Green Camp community will be held in the township hall beginning at 1 p. m.

All pupils of the school will attend. A religious film "Beyond Our Own," will be shown. The mixed chorus of the high school will sing two numbers.

Rev. Lester R. Kidd, Baptist pastor, Rev. F. Melvin Wentz of the Methodist church, and Rev. Edgar Guinther of the Reformed church, will assist in the service.

Catch Basin Cover Thefts Bring Fines

William Saunders of 123 Fles avenue, Charles Holycross of 429 Waterloo street, and William Armstrong of 813 Cheney avenue were fined $25 and costs each when they pleaded guilty in Mayor Ed Naus' court in Upper Sandusky to charges of stealing catch basin covers belonging to the state highway department.

The Marion men were apprehended by Sheriff Retterer Thursday when he received a tip from Dale Culver of Wyandot county, who was working in a field on his farm at the time of the theft. Culver gave chase to the men who had loaded the highway equipment into a truck, but failing to get their names, called the sheriff.

Armstrong and Saunders were arrested at their homes at 11 p. m. Thursday and Holycross was located in city jail where he had been confined on an intoxication charge.

One other person arrested by the state highway patrol, George Bever of Delaware, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court yesterday on a guilty plea to a charge of failure to register a motor vehicle.

IBERIA MISS AMERICA 4-H

IBERIA—Mrs. Ralph Riddle has anounced that 11 members belong to the Iberia Miss America 4-H club. F. W. Dalrymple, associate county agent introduced by Mrs. Paul Miller, explained County 4-H achievements to members last Friday, also the 4H program. Present were Evelyn McClurg, Barbara Hall, Anna Belle Riddle, Dorothy Edgar, Genevieve Garverick, Miriam Quaintance, Betty Jean Rinehart, Marjorie Edgar, Rose Ann McClarren, Ruth Shindeldecker and Beverly Seiter.

To Hold Easter Service Like One 175 Years Ago

By The Associated Press

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 24—An Easter sunrise service, like the one held 175 years ago, will be held Sunday at Schoenbrunn, site of the first protestant church in Ohio.

A procession of the congregation of the log church, accompanied by a traditional brass choir, will visit God's Acre, burial place of Christian Indians who died at the village, now a state memorial. The Rev. Roy Grams, pastor of the Dover Moravian church, and other ministers of the area, will conduct services at the log church.

Schoenbrunn village, two miles southeast of here, was founded in May, 1772, by David Zeisberger and a company of Indians. Ohio's first town, school and protestant church were established, although it did not become a permanent settlement.

WYANDOT CO. LICENSE

UPPER SANDUSKY—A marriage license has been issued in probate court in Upper Sandusky to Noble William Fox, Salem township, and Miss Margaret Kathleen Witzel, clerk-typist.

Museums have well-preserved samples of leather known to be at least 10,000 years old.

Mothers Rural Study Club Holds Dinner

A "sweetheart" dinner party was held by the Mothers Rural Study club of the Child Conservation league Saturday at Ringer's inn. Dinner was at 7 o'clock followed by contests and playing of hearts. A special prize went to Donald Williams. Mrs. Rollie Hite and Mrs. Nelson Snyder were in charge of arrangements. Couples present were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Hite and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stiger all of Wyandot, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Forry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Beaschler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Washburn, all of Morral, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Snyder of Harpster, and Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brewer, all of near Marion.

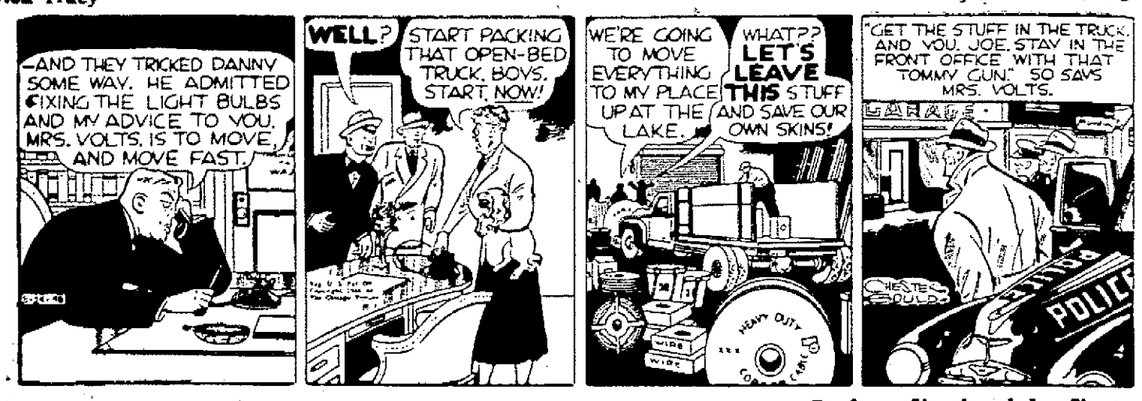
Rip Kirby — By Alex Raymond

SO YOU'RE WAITING FOR A PLANE BACK TO THE STATES! BUT HOW ON EARTH DID YOU, AN AMERICAN NURSE, GET STRANDED HERE?
THAT'S MY BUSINESS! YOU'VE ALREADY ASKED TOO MANY QUESTIONS! CAN'T WE JUST HAVE FUN?
VERY WELL... I'LL WHISTLE AND YOU SING!
HOW UTTERLY GAY!

Dick Tracy — By Chester Gould



—AND THEY TRICKED DANNY SOME WAY. HE ADMITTED FIXING THE LIGHT BULBS AND MY ADVICE TO YOU, MRS. VOLTS, IS TO MOVE, AND MOVE FAST.
WELL?
START PACKING THAT OPEN-BED TRUCK, BOYS. START NOW!
WE'RE GOING TO MOVE EVERYTHING TO MY PLACE UP AT THE LAKE.
WHAT?? LET'S LEAVE THIS STUFF AND SAVE OUR OWN SKINS!
"GET THE STUFF IN THE TRUCK, AND YOU, JOE, STAY IN THE FRONT OFFICE WITH THAT TOMMY GUN." SO SAYS MRS. VOLTS.

Superman — By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

AND I TELL YOU, WE'VE BEEN PLAGUED BY THIS MYSTERIOUS VOICE! I DEMAND TO KNOW WHAT KIND OF A SHIP THIS IS.
BUT, MY DEAR SIR— YOUR ACCUSATION IS PREPOSTEROUS!
LOOK—OUR ISLAND ISN'T EVEN ON THE MAP, OGY.
OF COURSE NOT. PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT OGIES!
A CLEVER BIT OF VENTRILOQUISM, BUT— HUH??
VENTRILOQUISM? POOR BURTON HAS FAINTED!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

A psychologist's explanation of our war nerves is that we have been cooped up too much this winter . . . He seems to think it's all right to let us out now.

Things may cool down . . . Stalin has made no new moves since Eddie Cantor addressed him. And Baby Snooks is being held in reserve.

Washington cannot be said to be unaware of the troubled times . . . New foreign policies are coming out almost hourly.

For the time being a strong stand is being taken on both sides of every question and where there is no question one will be provided.

We may not have the best foreign policies in the world but none of them are over 90 days old at any time.

In many respects there is an appearance of normalcy about the country . . . We are taking the coal strike, spring training and the election of "Miss April Showers" with seasonal calm.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

THOMAS E. DEWEY, born March 24, 1902, in Owosso, Mich., gained fame in his thirties as Manhattan's racket - busting district attorney and moved on to the governorship of New York state. He is the first Republican to win that office in two decades. He was defeated in 1940 when he sought the nomination of the Republican presidential candidate, defeated again in 1944 as Republican candidate. Recently he announced he would seek the presidency again in 1948.
